Conewago Twp. Youth Killed By Car On His Way To School

A 15-year-old Hanover High School sophomore was fatally injured this morning at 7:30 o'clock in Conewago Twp. when struck by a car operated by a senior at the school as both were enroute to school.

State police said Charles E. Steich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Steich, Hanover R. 4, Conewago Twp., was walking along the Hanover-Littlestown Rd., in the village of Mt. Pleasant, toward a school bus stop when he was struck by a car operated by Earl Wayne Gamble, 17, Hanover R. 4, a senior, driving to Hanover High School.

Dr. C. G. Crist, the Adams county coroner, said the Steich youth was instantly killed and listed the cause of death as a fractured skull, broken neck, internal injuries and a broken left leg. The youth was hurled, according to police, 105 feet by the impact.

TO HOLD INQUEST

Dr. Crist said an inquest will be held into the cause of death, but did not immediately set its date.

Michael C. Simpson, 16, Hanover R. 4, who was walking along the same road immediately behind Steich, also was struck by the car. He received only a glancing blow, which caused a contusion of the left arm. He was treated at the Hanover hospital.

State police said a number of younger youngsters had gathered in the shelter placed for the school bus stop in Mt. Pleasant, and other children were approaching the bus stop building.

STRUCK IN BACK

Steich was about "10 or 15 feet" from the structure. Michael Simpson was a few feet back of Steich and a little closer to the edge of the road. Walking on the berm approximately alongside Simpson were Simpson's brother Ronald, 15, and Barbara Bair, 15, both also of Hanover R. 4.

Gamble's car brushed the left arm of Michael Simpson, hurling him to the side and knocking his books out of his hand.

The struck youth almost hit the other two walking near him when he was hurled to the side

FLORIDA MAN DIES HERE AS CRASH VICTIM

Lester D. Plumb, 56, Clearwater, Fla., died this morning at 9:45 o'clock in the Warner Hospital where he had been a patient since last Tuesday when he was injured in an auto accident 2.9 miles north of York Springs on the Harrisburg Rd., 20 feet south of the York County line.

The Adams County coroner, Dr. C. G. Crist, said an autopsy is being performed to determine the cause of death. Plumb was listed originally has having all of his upper teeth knocked out, a broken right leg, lacerations of the face, contusions of the chest and abrasions and contusions of the legs.

Two others in his car, his wife, Mildred M. Plumb, who had lacerations of the lower lip and contusions of the chest, and Samuel A. Medcalf, 89, Clearwater, Fla., who had a severe laceration of the left eye, lacerations of the face and contusions of the chest and body, were released from the hospital today.

MAY HOLD INQUEST

Plumb's car was one of three vehicles involved in an accident which occurred, according to state police, at the time when Plumb was driving south and a northbound auto operated by Virgil E. Warner, 43, Hershey, ran into Plumb's car. Immediately thereafter another southbound auto driven by Elmer Dixon, 38, Jeannette, Pa., unable to stop quickly enough when the accident occurred immediately in front of him, collided with the rear of the Plumb auto. A half hour later two other cars coming on the scene of the first crash collided.

Warner's and Plumb's cars were demolished in the accident.

The body was released to the Bender Funeral Home here for shipment to Florida.

Dr. Crist said, pending results of the autopsy, that an inquest will probably be held in the death.

Klunk, Goodling In College Debate

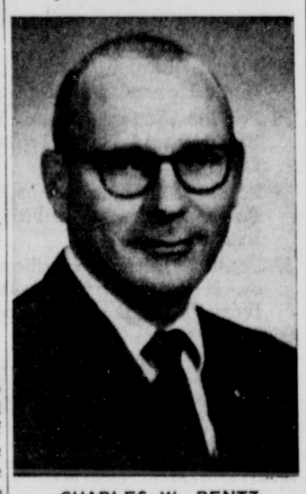

In a pre-election debate sponsored by the political science department at Gettysburg College Monday evening, Congressman George A. Goodling, a Republican, and Democratic County Chairman Fred G. Klunk engaged in an informal debate and then answered students' questions in a session at the Student Union building.

Both Klunk and Goodling made opening statements and then the meeting was opened for questions. The session got underway about 8 p.m. and ended at 10:30 o'clock. During the evening Klunk was joined by Gilbert Lupp, state president of the Young Democrats.

About 25 students attended the program.

C. W. PENTZ IS NAMED HEAD OF KIWANIS CLUB

Al Young introduced Paul F. Osborn, Biglerville, who presented a film "Behind the Iron Curtain," to illustrate his talk on Russia. The film included scenes in Moscow, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and East and West Berlin.

Osborn also compared the working hours needed to buy shoes, clothing, cars, food, etc., in Russia with the working hours to buy the same articles in the United States.

Guests at the meeting were Melvin Tressler and Thomas McCarthy, of Gettysburg.

Kids Day peanut sale will be continued Friday evening starting at 6:30 o'clock on Lincoln Square.

President Roy Thomas presided at the meeting.

Members of the club will attend the state convention at Allentown Tuesday and Wednesday.

The recently-elected directors of the Adams County Farmers' Association will be installed at a meeting Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Adams Electric Cooperative building here. Five directors were chosen last week at the annual meeting of the association at York Springs.

UPPER ADAMS BOARD FAVORS TWO-DISTRICT PLAN IN COUNTY

Without specifying any division lines, members of the Upper Adams Merged School Board at their October meeting at Biglerville Monday evening went on record as favoring a two-district reorganization of the schools of Adams County as opposed to the single district plan.

Much of the two-and-a-half-hour session of the school board was given over to a discussion of various proposals for reorganizing the county schools under the state School Reorganization Act 561. That law, passed last year, requires the county board of school directors to send to Harrisburg by January 1 a plan for the reorganization of county school districts along lines prescribed in the act.

The Upper Adams board is the first to make a recommendation to the county board but the subject will be coming up at regular or special meetings of all boards in the county this month. The county board last month called in school administrators and board presidents for a preliminary meeting and will reconvene the group early next month before reaching a final decision on reorganization.

COULD BE REVISED

The Upper Adams board Monday discussed many phases of the reorganization problems and seemed to feel that one reason a two-district plan is preferable now to a single district is that the plan could later be amended to a single district plan while if a single district were proposed now it is unlikely that such a plan could be revised to provide for two districts.

Dean Asquith, a member of the county board, is also a member of the Upper Adams board and attended Monday's meeting. He told the directors the county board members are interested in learning the views of school directors throughout the county on the reorganization matter.

President Oscar C. Rice Jr. presided at Monday's meeting. The board handled routine matters, gave the Biglerville Senior High School Band permission to arrange for a concert exchange with a band at Dover, N. J., and authorized the school authority to make the final payment to the contractor on the Biglerville Elementary School addition.

The meeting which convened at 8 adjourned about 10:30 p.m.

TOWN BUILDING INSPECTOR TO BE SELECTED

A building inspector will be named by borough council at its November meeting, according to a report by Councilman George W. Naugle at Monday evening's session of council in the engine house.

Naugle said his committee has studied the present building code and has decided on a year's test to see "how it works out in operation" before making any recommendation to council that it retain or change the ordinance.

He said that, in line with the provisions of the ordinance, his committee will recommend to council in November the name of a building inspector who will see that the provisions of the ordinance are complied with.

TWO APPLICANTS

Naugle said, "We have two applicants for the post now, both of whom are capable, and both of whom are willing to work under the conditions we have outlined."

He added that a meeting of his committee will be held Friday, October 12, at 7 p.m. at the engine house "with the two present candidates and anyone else interested in becoming building inspector here." After hearing the applicants, the committee will make its recommendation.

Under the plan outlined by the committee, Naugle said, the building inspector will work for 50 per cent of the fees charged the persons whose buildings are being inspected. Twenty-five per cent of the fees will go into a fund for postage, cards and other secretarial expense and 25 per cent will go into the general funds of the borough.

SIGNS UNCHANGED

A letter was received from the state highways department noting that council had turned down an

ULTIMATUM TO HIGHLAND AVE. FOLK ON LINE

Gettysburg borough council Monday evening gave property owners along the most southern block of Highland Ave. "48 hours in which someone must give a right of way for wires of the Metropolitan Edison Co. to come across their property for a street light or the council will put three poles right down its right of way in front of the houses in order to provide the street light."

The ultimatum came as a result of reports to council that "nobody will give the Metropolitan Edison right of way" to permit the bringing of wires from the rear across private property to a light pole.

Borough councilmen noted generally that council had authorized the light some time ago and that "the time has come to get done with it." It then voted that unless someone on the street offers a right of way within 48 hours, the town will go ahead with putting in poles to which people of the area had also objected.

With the borough engineer reporting that the highway department "as of today" had completed all road resurfacing and reconstruction authorized so far, council voted to have Hay St. from W. Middle to Buford Ave. resurfaced. The discussion indicated that the Hay St. work is to begin after filling of holes and other patching on the streets, which started today.

LeRoy H. Winebrenner, borough engineer, said the street crews will also soon begin gathering up leaves and similar dry debris during a continuing fall "clean up," carried out from time to time as work permits.

WHO OWNS LAND?

Councilman Robert McCoy commented on completion of blacktopping of Liberty St. and Winebrenner reported completion of Wall St.

Council authorized borough workmen to place stone and generally repair the alley known as "South St. Extended" from Washington St. to Long Lane "insofar as you can, and at the same time obtain releases from property owners that you can find." The alley, partially cobblestoned, has been in existence for years. Winebrenner said the borough had permission to work in the section from S. Washington St. to the Lincoln Cemetery, but has no permission beyond that point. Some property holders there are of record and can give releases but the ownership of the cemetery "is up in the air. There was a cemetery association at one time, but apparently it has died out. We can't find who owns it." Winebrenner

Weather May Permit Schirra's Space Launch

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Improving weather conditions in Atlantic recovery areas today brightened hopes that astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. will be launched Wednesday on his intended six-orbit around the world mission.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported today that a change in course removed tropical storm Daisy as a threat to the third orbit landing area 200 miles north of Puerto Rico.

Before shifting her 40-mile winds to a more northerly course overnight, Daisy was on a path which would have crossed the third orbit recovery area in the morning.

Conditions appear generally good for a launching, a NASA spokesman reported.

He said the first part of the split countdown on the Atlas spacecraft combination went without a hitch this morning. This included fueling of the Atlas with tons of fuel.

Grand Jurors Urge Annex To County Home And New Name; More Indictments

The Adams County grand jury Monday afternoon urged the county commissioners to consider construction of an addition to the county home.

Returning from a tour of the county buildings, the grand jury at 5 o'clock reported that the "county home is completely filled and we urge that consideration be given for an addition."

Judge W. C. Sheely, commenting on the report of the jury, said the question of size of the county home had been raised by the court at the time the original plans were before it for approval. Judge Sheely said the architect at that time had noted that the construction was so planned that wings can be added at any time—at no greater cost than if they had been built at the time the original portion of the home was constructed.

JORDANS PRAISED

The grand jury praised County Home Superintendent W. E. Jordan and his wife, who serves as nurse and matron, for their work in operation of the home.

The jury recommended repair to a broken skylight in the law library. The court noted that the commissioners are planning repairs to the roof of the courthouse and to the hallway skylight and the repair to the skylight over the law library can "easily be worked into that program, I believe."

In its report the grand jury noted "some jurors are not in accord with the name 'Adams County Home' and suggest that consideration be given to changing it to something more suitable."

COMMENT ON JAIL

In the portion of its report pertaining to the jail, the jury commented that "the jury was of the opinion that it was pretty damp in the cell block. Maybe they want it this way, but it doesn't seem very healthy."

The jury did not comment on the work in progress of removing the paint from the brick walls of the courthouse.

ROTARY CLUB SHOWN FILM ON EXCHANGE

The story of the New York Stock Exchange was told in a movie presented Monday evening at a meeting of the Rotary Club at the YWCA.

The film entitled "Your Share in Tomorrow" depicted how in 1792 24 New York merchants agreed to meet daily under a buttonwood tree in Wall St., New York City, to buy and sell stocks for the public and thus the Stock Exchange began.

Using pictures of dioramas in the New York Metropolitan Museum, the growth of the exchange was shown as it eventually moved into its own quarters, and began to handle stocks for private companies as well as stocks issued by states and the federal government. The film explained that the stock exchange neither sells nor buys stocks but is merely the place where brokers meet to buy and sell among themselves for their customers, the exchange keeping a record of the transactions.

EMBRACES MANY

The growth of "people's capitalism" in which nearly everyone in the country is now a part owner of corporations through ownership of shares of their stock was a 'slow, long development from the start of the stock exchange," according to the film.

The film held that "the ownership of the companies by the public generally is only beginning, with the future to be built on the capital supplied through purchase of stock by the people of today."

Ted Gilbert, president of the Senior Class of Gettysburg High School and student president of the American Field Service, was introduced as the October student member of Rotary. President Clark Smith presided at the meeting. Dr. Frederick Tilberg and Dr. Kenneth Smoke were in charge of group singing. Vice President Rev. Robert MacAskill introduced the film.

CALL JR. FIREMEN

The Gettysburg Junior Firemen will hold a three-hour session Wednesday night. Officials of the club said the meeting will begin at the engine house at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening and will not end until about 10 o'clock.

SPEAKS HERE FOR DILWORTH

Dr. Richard Sheer, associate professor of political science at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, substituted for Richardson Dilworth, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, in addressing an assembly this morning in the Student Union auditorium at Gettysburg College.

Dilworth cancelled his appearance here to attend the funeral of Michael Lawler of Lackawanna County, a friend and political associate.

Dr. Sheer pointed out that in the coming gubernatorial election the real choice is between parties and not personalities. He said the Republican party was a "single interest" party and the Democratic a "multi-interest" party which explains its vitality.

Combatting unemployment is an important issue, he said. The Democrats have done much. Sheer

SCHOOL BOARD PUTS SOME TAX FUNDS TO WORK

About $207,000 in 1962 school taxes have been paid in so far, according to reports presented at the October meeting of the Gettysburg Area School Board Monday evening at the high school building. President Robert H. Deardorff presided at the 25-minute session.

With a treasury balance of $163,948 as of September 24, the board approved placing at least $25,000 of that balance on a six-month certificate of deposit. At the suggestion of board members, Superintendent H. Edgar Riegle will make an investigation to see if more of the funds now on hand can b invested for a 90-day period without running the board short of operating funds.

A $25,000 certificate of deposit the district already owns will be renewed next week.

KEEP FUNDS WORKING

The practice of investing school funds in short term treasury notes or giving sums to local banks on a certificate of deposit, whichever means brings the higher rate of interest, has been followed by Gettysburg board, and many other school boards in the county, since state law made such actions possible several years ago. By this means school funds which are received early in the year can earn interest until they are needed later in the year for operating expenses.

Financial reports for July, August and September, read at Monday's meeting, showed that the real estate transfer tax brought in a total of $3,738 in that time. The financial reports came from the First National Bank, school district treasurer.

Dr. Jacob Heikkinen, member-at-large for the Gettysburg Area District, offered board members 300-page copies of House hear-

Armed Woman, Boy Among 200 Arrested In Mississippi Racial Case; Gen. Walker Is Jailed; Accused Of Inciting Insurrection

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Federal troops arrested more than two dozen persons carrying weapons during the night as they tightened an uneasy security around the University of Mississippi.

The armed troops, wary of the slightest boilup in the bitter segregation dispute, arrested anyone found with any type of weapon.

James H. Meredith, the 29-year-old Negro who is the hub of the state vs. federal government hassle, spent his first night as an Ole Miss student in a residence hall flooded with spotlights.

One man and his son, 14, arrested during the early hours, had a collection that included one rifle and two shotguns, one saber, two hunting knives and ammunition.

WOMAN HAD SHOTGUN

The swelling force of federal troops, bayonets fixed and rifles reody, arrested the first woman since the flareup began. She was held overnight when soldiers found a shotgun in her car.

In New Orleans, La., Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett had a date in federal court on a contempt citation, harvested from his vain effort to thwart Meredith's entrance as the 114-year-old university's first knowingly admitted Negro student.

"I call on the President to put a stop to further violence by immediate removal of Meredith and the withdrawal of federal troops and marshals from Mississippi soil," the 64-year-old governor said in a speech telecast across the nation Monday night.

12,000 ON DUTY

Barnett blamed federal intervention for the weekend segregation riots and the deaths of a French newsman and an Oxford repairman.

Washington's rebuttal was a mounting building of nearly 12,000 soldiers including the crack 101st Airborne Division, the paratroop outfit that quelled the 1957 school integration violence at Little Rock, Ark.

Troops streamed into Oxford, outnumbering the college hamlet's citizenry 2-1 in the strongest display of federal might since the end of the Civil War nearly a century ago.

DIG FOXHOLES

The troops arrested more than 200 persons since Sunday night, about one-third of them students. Most of them went free, but more than a dozen stayed in custody to face various charges, including former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

The military's mission was to protect the slightly built, 29-year-old Meredith's court-ordered status as a student at the university, and to forestall further rioting on campus in Oxford.

Jeeps rattled through inky blackness on inspection of armed footsoldiers who dug foxholes beneath a softly falling rain. The campus was sealed off. So was the town square of Oxford, where short-lived skirmishes occurred on Monday between civilians and hel-

Governor Faces Deadline In Contempt Case Today

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—The deadline for Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett to purge himself of federal contempt of court charges neared today after the still-defiant governor hurled a new verbal blast at President Kennedy.

In a television speech, Barnett put blame for violence that has accompanied desegregation of the University of Mississippi "directly with the President of the United States."

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here gave Barnett until 11 a.m. today to show that he intends to comply with its orders that made James H. Meredith the first known member of his race to attend the 114-year-old state university.

FACES DAILY FINE

Barnett, convicted last Friday of civil contempt, faced imprisonment and a $10,000 daily fine, unless he purged himself by the deadline.

Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson, convicted of similar contempt the following day, faced a $5,000 daily fine if he did not act to purge himself by the same deadline.

In his speech, carried nationally over the Columbia Broadcasting System Monday night, Barnett blamed "reckless, trigger-happy federal marshals" for being "directly responsible for the violence" at Ole Miss.

Eight of the appeals court's nine members, sitting en banc, convicted Barnett. The governor did not appear. Attorneys for the state were refused permission to participate in the case.

The eight judges were unanimous in finding Barnett guilty, although three dissented from the part of the sentence that levied the fine.

reported. He said there was also some question of the ownership of the land immediately adjoining the alley to the south which is now "occupied by the hospital."

Council complained of "state automobiles and we don't mean those of state police" parking all night, parking in no parking zones, etc., and added, "We give them tickets and they don't pay. We'd like to have the borough check with state officials and see why they think they should violate our laws." Mayor William G. Weaver reported "we had one or two in the last week" and indicated the drivers "promised to behave in the future."

REMOVAL DELAYED

Attorney S. M. Raffensperger appeared for Eddie's Cleaners to protest a notice given by council last month for the cleaning establishment to remove a loading platform which extended four feet into the borough's property in the alley behind the plant. He said that the open area at the spot "is wider than much of the rest of alley" and that "we are seeking industry here. Yet we are harassing a plant that employs 44 people." He added, "We feel that if Eddie's Cleaners must remove its platform from the alley then everybody else in town should move their private property out of the alleys."

Council agreed that there are a number of other instances in which private property extends into the alleys, but pointed out that principal problem posed by the loading platform is that council has received several complaints and thus is officially aware of the problem. As a result, if anyone should run into it and be injured the insurance carriers would not pay, the council itself would have to pay the damages."

Attorney Raffensperger, in line with a suggestion by council, said he believes the laundry will agree to cover any damage claims that might come up, thus freeing council from that obligation. Council agreed to stay execution of its removal order for a month until the borough solicitor and Attorney Raffensperger "see what can be worked out."

DRIVER RELEASED

Damage to the car was estimated at $150. The grille of the car was pushed back through the radiator by the impact.

The Gamble youth was operating a car owned by Dewey Gamble, Hanover R. 4. Police said they presumed the owner was the youth's father.

SERVICES THURSDAY

The Steich boy was the eldest son of Paul Elwood and Doris L. (Rebert) Steich, Hanover R. 4, Conewago Twp. In addition to his parents he is survived by two brothers and two sisters, Russell Allen and Jack Edward and Linda Ann and Jill Marie, all at home. These grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Steich, Hanover R. 4, and Mr. and Mrs. George Rebert Sr., Hanover, and two great-grandmothers, Mrs. Martha Baumgardner, Hanover, and Mrs. Billie A. Rebert, Abbottstown R. 1, also survive.

The accident victim was a member of the Otterbein EUB Church of Hanover and was a member of a Sunday School class taught by his grandfather, George Rebert Sr. The youth was a sophomore in the Hanover High School and was a member of the school band. He was also a newspaper carrier boy.

Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Otterbein church with the body to lie in state there from 1 to 2 p.m. His pastor, the Rev. Paul R. Wineka, will officiate. Interment will be made in Rest Haven Cemetery, Hanover. There will be a viewing Wednesday evening at the funeral home.

Grand Jurors

the bricks on the south side of the court house and repointed them to give the side the appearance it had when it was built in 1958, have now moved to the front of the court house and as a result the front door of the court house was blocked Monday and will remain closed until the front of the structure is cleaned. During the period of the front being closed, court house officials and those visiting the court house are using the entrance through the basement off W. Middle St.

MORE TRUE BILLS

True bills were returned by the jury in a number of cases including:

A charge of contributing to the delinquency of juvenile minors against Mark Eugene Lawyer, Cary Don Knott and Harry A. Heck, all of Hanover, and Ronald E. Doakes and James W. Townsend, both of Gettysburg. All entered pleas of innocent at the arraignment held before the court following the report of the grand jury. Trial in the case will be held next week.

A charge of indecent exposure against George O. Sterner, Hanover, which also will be tried next week.

A charge of larceny against Andrew Louis Matoszki, Gettysburg R. 1, which also is scheduled for trial next week. At the arraignment, Matoszki, asked how he pleaded to the case, replied, "I'm not pleading to nothing I don't know nothing about."

GAMBLING CASES

A charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors against Lloyd T. Washington, Gettysburg. He entered a plea of innocent and will stand trial next week.

Four charges of setting up and maintaining gambling devices with a second count of conspiracy against John E. Kerrigan, Gettysburg; Ted Cole Bewbroski, Delray Beach, Fla., and Harry Westbrook, Hollywood, Fla. Attorneys for the men said they entered innocent pleas and will stand trial next week.

Stewart H. Moyer, Gettysburg, charged with violation of the firearms act in the sale of starter pistols, entered a plea of nolo contendere to the charge, his attorney said at the arraignment.

SIGN PLEAS

Daniel F. Shorb, Emmitsburg, signed pleas of guilty at the arraignment to a charge of assault and battery against Roy C. Keffer, with the district attorney stating that the second half of that charge, brought by Dorothy Keffer, will be nol prosse, and to charges of driving a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner, driving a motor vehicle while his license was suspended and to a two-count charge of driving without the consent of the owners.

The latter two-count charge was "larceny" until Shorb appeared to plead guilty. District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter asked Shorb what he had done with the two cars. Shorb said he was "drinking fairly heavily at the time and I don't know where I left them." The district attorney noted that the cars had been driven only a relatively short distance and were abandoned by Shorb during the escapade which resulted in all the various charges against him and suggested that the larceny be changed to driving without consent of the owner. The court agreed to the change and Shorb signed.

James K. Seville, Chambersburg, signed a plea of guilty to a charge of driving a motor vehicle during suspension.

TRIAL LIST SHORTENS

No action was taken by the county court on the conspiracy, burglary and larcey charges against Ernest T. Moone and Theoria Jackson, both of Washington. District Attorney Teeter told the court that Moone is scheduled to stand trial in Virginia, starting today, on another charge and it was not yet known if he will be available to stand trial here this term.

Frederick T. Altland signed a plea of guilty before the court on a charge of driving during suspension.

SEVERAL CONTINUED

William Smith Jr., New Oxford R. 1, withdrew a plea of guilty to a morals charge. The case was continued to February term because the birth has not yet occurred and, since Smith is not married, the other portion of the charge against him must be changed.

Kenneth F. Wagaman, Hanover, entered an innocent plea to a morals charge and it also was continued to February term because no birth has yet occurred. Similar disposition, for the same reason, was made in a morals case against David Miner, Abbottstown.

The morals charge against William H. Roth, Harrisburg, was continued to February because the attorney understood that blood tests cannot be made until the infant is six months old. The court held that since a new type of test is now used, the test can be made earlier and directed that in the future applications must be made with the court earlier when blood tests are to be requested.

MISSIONARY FROM GHANA WILL SPEAK

Rev. Dr. George R. Snyder, a missionary to Ghana, Africa, who is on furlough in the states, will speak at Incarnation United Church of Christ in Emmitsburg at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Dr. Snyder will tell of his work and will also show some of his colored slides from the mission in Ghana.

The work in Ghana and the Republic of Togo was begun by the Bremen Mission in 1847. As a result of World War I, the mission was orphaned. In the mandated territory of British Togo-land, now a part of Ghana, the Scottish Presbyterian Mission jumped into the breach and helped the church to organize. In French Togo, the Paris Missionary Society took over.

In June, 1945, the Evangelical and Reformed Church through its executive secretary of the board of international mission received a call for help from the Ewe (now Evangelical) Presbyterian and Scottish Presbyterian Churches. The appointed missionaries arrived in Ghana in December, 1946. Since that time, the staff has increased to 38. Dr. Snyder and his wife were among these.

After 32 years as missionaries to China, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Snyder in 1952 joined the missionary staff that works with the Evangelical Presbyterian Church in Ghana. Mr. Snyder became the principal of the Evangelical Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Peki Blengo. His wife teaches 12 hours a week in the Evangelical Presbyterian Theological Seminary and assists with women's work. The Snyders are home in Ohio for a year.

The service at Incarnation Church is being sponsored by the Youth Fellowship and the Women's Guild. The offering to be received will be given to the building fund of the church. The members are urged to bring their "little churches" for the quarterly ingathering of funds.

Everyone is invited to attend.

ARREST GENERAL

The highlight of Monday's kaleidoscopic segregation drama was the arrest of Walker, the spit-and-polish former Army general who led the 101st Airborne at Central High School during the Little Rock segregation crisis.

Walker, 53, resigned from the Army after a dispute over his indoctrination program for overseas American troops. He came here from his home in Dallas, Tex., after urging the massing of tens of thousands of volunteers to resist Meredith's registration.

On Sunday, Walker rallied rioting students on the Mississippi campus. He was arrested Monday after he shouted encouragement to rioters who hurled bottles and bricks at federal troops in Oxford's central square.

FACES JAIL, FINE

Walker failed to make $100,000 bond on charges that included engaging in insurrection against the American flag he once served. Maximum penalty upon conviction would be 20 years in prison and a $20,000 fine.

When he failed to post bond, Walker was whisked away to a Springfield, Mo., medical center for federal prisoners. It is a center for, among other things, diagnosis of mental cases. In Washington, in sharp congressional reaction to the Mississippi crisis, Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, referred to Walker as a psychopath.

As units of the 82nd and 101st Airborne moved into Oxford, Lt. Gen. Hamilton Howze arrived to take command of all military forces in the university area.

HAS APARTMENT

Amid all this massing of force and this legal turmoil, Meredith played his pioneer role with every appearance of outward calm. Federal marshals escorted him into the lyceum, the administration building, Monday morning. A Confederate flag hung at half staff.

Meredith paid $230 for tuition. He was assigned a two-room apartment with kitchenette in a residence building, Baxter Hall. Then, closely guarded, he set off for classes in such subjects as history, political science and English.

Although his determined drive to enroll at Mississippi was crowned with at least temporary success, Meredith was quoted as saying: "This is not a happy occasion."

Delone Musicians Stricken At Game

Six members of the marching band of Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Lancaster Friday night for treatment of a virus infection after being stricken during the Delone-Lancaster Catholic High School football game in Lancaster.

Richard Feeser, the band director, said the student musicians all became ill within a 45-minute period near the end of the game.

They were taken to the hospital in private cars and treated by physicians for what was diagnosed as a viro germ infection.

Feeser said the six band members were released from the hospital at 12:30 a.m. Saturday and returned to their homes.

Those stricken were identified by Feeser as Dawn Weaver, Marion Small, Donald Smith, Thomas Zeigler, Bonnie Stull and Mary Miller, all teen-agers residing in the McSherrystown area.

The 136-year-old union relationship of the Lutheran and United Church of Christ congregations of Paradise (Holtzschwamm) Union Church will be dissolved with the Lutheran to absorb the UCC congregation's share at a cost of $190,000.

Dissolution of the union status was approved by members of both congregations at separate balloting sessions. Officials of the two congregations announced the results Sunday night following a joint meeting when votes were tabulated.

Articles of agreement for the combined sale-purchase of the UCC congregation's rights in the Union church now must be prepared and signed. No date was set for the dissolution to become effective.

Out Of The Past

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Civic Nurse At Work: Miss Kate Briel, Gettysburg's civic nurse, arrived in town on Wednesday and went into service immediately, having her first call very soon after her arrival. She has taken up her residence at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Wilson, 54 East Middle St., where she will be at the call of every citizen of town, regardless of condition, creed or color.

Little Response From Gettysburg: Gettysburg's citizens are failing utterly to respond to the appeal of the Board of Trade for information regarding the number of visitors they will be able to take care of during the fiftieth battle anniversary celebration next year. Several weeks ago the organization distributed throughout the town hundreds of cards with blank spaces to be filled showing the number of boarders and lodgers that families would be willing to take during July, 1913. A remarkably small proportion of the people who received the cards have returned them, J. Louis Sowers, representing the Board of Trade said. Gettysburg will have its hands more than full and the Board of Trade had hoped that by its card scheme some progress could be made toward preparing for the great influx of visitors.

Richard Sadler, a former resident of Huntingdon, heeded Greeley's advice and two years went to Calgary, Alberta, Canada, where he has been very successful in the real estate business. This summer in three months he has cleared $8,000 which is going some. Mr. Sadler is the youngest son of the late Watson Sadler.

Mrs. John Hammers: Mrs. Mary E. Hammers died Thursday at her home in Highland Township, aged 79 years. She was the widow of John Hammers, the well known woolen manufacturer who died December 5, 1894. She leaves one son, S. S. W. Hammers, and two daughters, Mrs. J. Edward Newman and Mrs. J. B. Myers, with whom she made her home. She was a consistent member of the Church of the Brethren from her girlhood days. It was her delight to entertain strangers. Before the church at Marsh Creek was enlarged, nearly every Love Feast occasion she would gather from twenty to fifty strangers and take them to her home for the night. On one occasion she had seventy-five men and women over night.

They received 67 loads of 2,160 bushels of apples as against 2,040 bushels, the largest for one day last year. The largest load ever delivered was by Sheely Brothers of Cashtown, who took 189 2-5 bushels weighing 9,170 pounds.

At the monthly session of Town Council a communication was received from John A. Wilson, of Broadway, calling the attention of council to the fact that a crossing at Broadway and Mummasburg street was ordered made some time ago, that said crossing was never constructed, and the present pathway is "inches deep" in mud. The matter was referred to the Highway Committee. Borough Solicitor Wible was asked to take the necessary steps leading to the opening of Fourth street north of the Western Maryland Railway tracks and the Highway Committee ordered to do the actual work of opening this street as soon as the necessary legal steps have been taken.

Today's Talk

HOW HONEST ARE YOU?

"When a man really tells the truth," said G. K. Chesterton, "the first truth he tells is that he himself is a liar."

I have always thought Chesterton was right. There are very few really honest people in the world. I mean people who are honest with themselves. Most people are honest with other people. If they were not they would be put in jail. Or be ostracized — or something.

It takes a great deal of courage to be honest. You have to be quite bold at times. You may have to give up or go without much that you would like to keep — including even friends.

Just as soon as a man begins to speak the truth on ALL occasions, he is immediately marked as rather queer. For the obvious thing is to conceal, to cover up. To "keep peace in the family," rather than to establish and stick to the natural order, which means to be square clear down the spine.

But do not mind, my friend, be honest — with yourself first — and speak the plain truth, though you walk alone.

We have "customs" and "precedents" to harangue us. But who were they whose perfection made the "customs" and "precedents"? Who told them that they were right?

I don't believe honesty starts very far away from right what you are, or from where you are.

Our schools, churches and societies say a great deal about not stealing, but so little about being absolutely honest.

Honesty isn't relative. It is primitive. It is fundamental. You are happy and successful only in the degree that you are honest.

For honesty is not even a "policy," but a kind of sterling sense.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Earning."

Just Folks

WORK

Work will not rob you of self-respect.
Work will not ask you to sell your pride.
Work and you'll walk with your head erect,
At no man's bidding to step aside.
Work and all that your chief will ask
Is that you come fit to your daily task.

Work and your freedom you'll still maintain
Work will not force you to change your views.
Work, and whatever reward you gain,
Unquestioned, unhampered is yours to use.
Work and the whole world you can face,
For at no man's favor you hold your place.

Work and you'll rest with a conscience clear,
Work and you speak as you think to all
Work, and you've no one on earth to fear,
No one to flatter for favors small.
Work and you'll live with your head held high
And your soul will be yours till the day you die.

Dry Aruba Exports First Vegetables

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—For the first time in its history, the island of Aruba is exporting vegetables.

Aruba is an extremely dry island 35 miles off the coast of Venezuela. Its 69 square miles produce refined oil, salt and phosphates, but water is so scarce it has to be imported and the soil is barren.

Several months ago, a firm called Hydroponica International built two hydroponic farms to produce fresh vegetables for the 48,000 citizens of Aruba. On a hydroponic farm, vegetables are grown in sawdust and shavings in concrete beds with big doses of fertilizer.

S. R. Robbins of Fort Myers, president of the firm, said that recently the two farms produced more tomatoes than were needed. The excess is being shipped to Puerto Rico and Miami, he said.

OHIO STATE IS IN TOP SPOT IN GRIDIRON POLL

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

After taking a back seat for just one week, Ohio State was back in the No. 1 spot in the weekly Associated Press football poll today.

The power - packed Buckeyes were voted the top team in the nation in the AP pre-season poll, but when Alabama, the defending champion, won its first game convincingly, the sports writers and sportscasters who do the voting had some second thoughts.

They sent the Crimson Tide, the defending national champions, to the top in the first of the regular-season polls.

PSU STILL 4TH

But after Ohio State's crushing 41-7 victory over North Carolina in its opener last Saturday, the Buckeyes edged back into first place with 335 votes to 329 for Alabama, which crushed Tulane, 44-6.

The Crimson Tide actually compiled more first place votes than Ohio State—19 to 18 — but the Buckeyes had more general support. The votes are awarded on a basis of 10 points for first place, nine for second and so on down the list.

No other team really came close to the two front-runners. Texas held on to its No. 3 spot with 266 points and Penn State continued at No. 4 with 227 points. Louisiana State, rated one of Alabama's main rivals for the Southeastern Conference championship, tumbled out of the top ten along with Michigan State and Missouri.

The top ten, with first-place votes in parentheses:

	Points
1. Ohio State (18)	335
2. Alabama (19)	329
3. Texas (3)	266
4. Penn State	227
5. Georgia Tech	178
6. Southern California	125
7. Mississippi	107
8. Washington	71

GEN. WALKER'S CRUSADE ENDS IN MISS. JAIL

OXFORD Miss. (AP)— Former Maj. Edwin A. Walker's crusade in behalf of Mississippi segregationists has ended with the war hero's arrest on charges of leading an insurrection against the United States.

The federal action Monday afternoon ended two stormy days in Oxford for the one-time soldier, center of one controversy after and another before and after his 1961 resignation from the Army.

Walker commander of federal troops in the Little Rock, Ark., desegregation crisis, this time was on the other side.

LED STUDENT CHARGE

The highest-ranking Justice Department officer in Oxford Deputy Atty. Gen Nicholas Katzenbach, ordered Walker's arrest, after the 23-year-old Texan led one student charge against federal marshals on the University of Mississippi campus, and later appeared in the midst of rioting in downtown Oxford.

Shortly after he waived a preliminary hearing, and failed to make $100,000 bond set for the four charges against him, Walker was flown to a federal prison in Springfield, Mo., which specializes in psychiatric care.

After talking to Walker nearly an hour Monday night, Dr. Russell Settle, the center's warden, said the former general was certain his friends would raise his bond shortly.

SUPPLY OF ARMS

One of his supporters, identified as Ashland Burchwell, a 22-year-old Texan, was picked up in Dallas, along with a large supply of arms and ammunition police said he was taking to Walker in Mississippi. Burchwell said he had worked for Walker both in the Army and in Texas.

But the "tens of thousands" Walker promised to lead to the support of Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett, fighting to prevent Negro James H. Meredith's enrollment at the University of Mississippi, never materialized.

FACES 4 CHARGES

The four charges filed against Walker were:

1. Assaulting, resisting, or impeding U.S. marshals.
2. Conspiring to prevent discharge of duties.
3. Inciting assisting and engaging in insurrection against the authority of the United States.
4. Conspiring to oppose by force the execution of any law of the United States.

Taken before U.S. Commissioner Omar Craig, Walker waived his hearing after conferring by telephone with an unidentified attorney.

TO ASK HIGHER FISHING FEE

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Fish Commission plans to ask the 1963 General Assembly to bolster sagging fish revenues by hiking license fees, contributions from the general fund or special taxes.

Six of the commission's eight members approved the revenue proposals for legislative consideration at a regular meeting here Monday. The other commissioners were absent.

They also adopted a resolution urging the Federal Power Commission to order construction of fishways around the Conowingo Dam to permit migratory fish to reach the Upper Susquehanna River.

In other action, the commission authorized for the first time ice fishing for trout and set size, season and creel limits on inland waterways for 1963.

While the commission left to the egislature the amount of any increase in the present $3.25 annual license fee it was learned that the commissioners discussed boosts ranging from $1 to $1.75.

Apparently a majority favored a $5 annual fee.

Amish Find Horses Becoming Scarce

CANTON, Ohio, (AP)—It hasn't come yet, but the day is arriving when a farmer may have to take his children to the zoo to see what a horse looks like.

Even in this Wayne-Stark County area, which encompasses some 1,000 Amish families who refuse to use motorized equipment, it is a rarity when a man uses a horse to pull a plow.

Some Amish farmers now hire men to till their fields with tractors. Owning the tractor is irreligious, not having it used.

The use of the tractor is not always for speed. The Amish farmers are finding it more difficult and more enpensive to find good work horses. The horse farms are disappearing. Those that remain raise track horses, saddle and show animals.

The Amish farmer who want to use horses now must raise his own, or pay up to $900 for a good pair.

School Janitor Born In Lincoln's Cabin

HODGENVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Ivy Davenport, 72, was born in the same log cabin as Abraham Lincoln, the last person to be born there.

The cabin, now enclosed as a memorial, is located at Hodgenville, just south of Louisville.

"Lincoln and I had some things in common," Davenport says. "Besides being born of poor parents, we lost out mothers at about 10½ years of age and we both had little formal education."

But there, he says, the similarity ends.

"I'm just an ordinary country boy and I've lived just and ordinary life," he says. "Abe studied, while fellows like me played."

Davenport is a maintenance man at Hodgenville Elementary School and has spent most of his life in the area.

His parents lived in the Lincoln cabin 19 years and left when Davenport was 5 years old. He still remembers corn-shuck mattresses, meals prepared over an open fireplace, beds fitted into the wall by pegs and cramped conditions of the 16-by-18-foot cabin.

BUY COLT FOR $43,000

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Master Rodney, a full brother to last year's Kentucky Futurity winner, Duke Rodney was sold for $43,000 Monday night at the standardbred yearling sales.

John Patterson of Dalton, Ga., acting as agent for an unnamed buyer, bought the Rodney Duke's Duchess brown colt from the Walnut Hall Stud of Lexington.

HOUSTON WILL PLAY OLE MISS

HOUSTON (AP)—The University of Houston football team is ready to take on the University of Mississippi Saturday despite current disorder in Oxford, Miss.

"We're going over there to play football and nothing else," said one member of the squad. "Sure we want to play them. They're on the schedule aren't they?"

Houston Athletic Director Harry Fouke tried all day Monday to contact Mississippi Athletic Director Tad Smith by telephone to check on the status of the game, but could not reach him.

"It's their game and we've heard nothing from them," Fouke said. "Until we do, we are proceeding in our preparation to play the game as contracted."

Ole Miss Coach John Vaught said in Oxford his team was working hard in practice sessions for the Houston game, and added:

"There is nothing I have discovered to change our plans about playing Houston Saturday."

STOP BUYING CONES IN AREA

WAYNESBORO, Pa. (AP)—The gold rush for pine cones is over in the southern half of Pennsylvania, but the state is still paying $2.50 a bushel in northern counties.

Joseph Hill, superintendent of Mount Alto State Nursery here, asked the public in this area to halt the flow of white pine and Norway spruce cones.

It's too late in the season, he explained. All the cones already have lost their seeds.

Many persons who responded to the Forests and Waters Department's appeal for the short-supply cones to grow seedlings were disappointed.

Included was a man who arrived with 20 bushels.

At Harrisburg, David S. Nace, chief of the Nursery Division, said the state still is looking for cones at northern nurseries, since they still have their seeds.

He reminded cone gatherers that only unopened cones are acceptable. Cones already opened have lost their seed.

Cone collection time has ended in Adams County and only closed Norway spruce and white pine cones containing seed will be accepted at Mont Alto Nursery if countians have already collected some.

Penn State Leads For Lambert Trophy

NEW YORK (AP)—Penn State, victorious against Navy and Air Force, may find Army as posing the biggest obstacle in its drive for the Lambert Trophy, awarded each year to the East's top football team.

The Nittany Lions were a unanimous choice as top team in the east Monday in a weekly poll of sports writers, broadcasters and coaches.

Army with two victories over Wake Forest and Syracuse, was rated second. The Cadets clash with Penn State Oct. 13 at West Point.

Pittsburgh was third in the poll, followed by Boston College, Princeton, Syracuse, Holy Cross, Navy, Dartmouth and Villanova, in that order.

Move On Foot To Boost State Aid To Education

HARRISBURG (AP)—There is strong evidence that Pennsylvania taxpayers may be paying sales taxes on just about everything they purchase by this time next year.

The evidence is provided by the demands for greater state aid to education and by the process of eliminating various tax possibilities to finance this aid.

In this matter, the outcome of the Nov. 6 election has little bearing.

GREATER AID PLEDGED

Consider, first of all, that both parties have pledged greater aid for school operations and for teachers' salaries.

Then, consider that salary scales and the basic formula by which the state distributes its aid have been untouched since 1957.

Thus, in fulfilling its 1962 gubernatorial campaign pledge, the winning party will run head-on into the accumulated demands of six years.

Pledges are not always kept. Where they are kept, the fulfillment sometimes is a matter of interpretation.

PREPARE PROGRAMS

There is in the works, however, a program to be presented by the education organizations and their lobbies in 1963.

The Pennsylvania State Education Association (representing some 80,000 teachers and school administrators), the Pennsylvania State School Directors Association (representing about 12,000 school board members) and the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers have formed a Joint Action Committee to work out this program.

Sources say there is strong sentiment for an increase in state subsidies by up to $200 million to bring the state's share of costs in line with the increases over the past six years.

MORE TEACHER PAY

This figure is bolstered by proposed teacher salary increases that alone would cost between $60 million and $90 million a yeor.

The committee generally has agreed the minimum annual salary for starting teachers should be increased to a range between $4,500 and $6,200, depending upon the amount of post-graduate education the teacher has had. There would be compensating increases also for teachers already in service.

With the emphasis both parties have given to industrial development, a substantial increase in business taxes to finance any major increase in educational effort would appear out of the question.

MEANS MORE TAXES

Historical evidence suggests little chance that the economy in government and efficiency in tax collections that the parties mention as a source of added funds is so much campaign talk.

That leaves the consumer.

The state constitution prohibits a graduated income tax along the federal model and a flat income tax—equal rates for all—is anathema at the present time to politicians in either party.

That leaves the sales tax.

FEWER EXEMPTIONS

The present 4 per cent rate would have to be increased to 5-6 per cent to finance a program such as the education lobbies are discussing.

(And this does not include increased spending for higher education—community colleges, more money for existing colleges—which appears a sure bet for legislative acceptance in 1963).

Increased tax rates are not popular with legislators, either.

The alternative would be much less money than the schools are requesting or removal of such exemptions as food and/or clothing in the present sales tax.

SHAMOKIN HAS BIG LINEMAN

HARRISBURG (AP) — Without a doubt Bill Herrold of Shamokin High School will go down as one of the biggest linemen ever to play scholastic football in Pennsylvania — and perhaps in the country.

The reason: Herrold weighs 355 pounds and he's still growing.

The 15-year-old tackle from Paxinos R. D. is the defensive stalwart of the Shamokin attack this year and also serves as the team's kickoff man, averaging close to 50 yards a boot.

Statistically, young Herrold stands 6 foot 5, and wears a size 19 shirt, size 52 pants and size 13-triple E shoes. All his clothes, including his football uniforms, must be custom-made.

Yet, despite his size, Herrold has been described by his coach, Mel Paul, as a wide-awake player, with quick reflexes and good ability.

His play is one of the big reasons why Shamokin, an also-ran in 1961, is currently setting the pace in the rough and tumble scramble for Southern Division honors in the East Penn Conference.

BIDWELL JURY FAILS TO AGREE

NEW YORK (AP)—J. Truman Bidwell, who resigned as board chairman of the New York Stock Exchange the day he was indicted on charges of federal income tax evasion, faces a second trial on the charges. The first trial ended early today with a hung jury.

The jury of 11 men and a woman reported to U.S. Judge Thomas F. Murphy for the second time in eight hours that it was "hopelessly deadlocked." The judge then announced: "I declare a mistrial. Unhappy as I am, I guess there is nothing else we can do."

The government immediately announced it will try the 58-year-old defendant again on the Feb. 27 indictment accusing him of wilfully evading income tax payments of $55,908 for 1956-57.

Dodger Hopes And Alston Scalp In Balance Today In 2nd Playoff After Foldup

Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Not only the Dodgers World Series hopes but Los Angeles manager Walter Alston's scalp may hang in the balance in today's second game of the National League pennant playoff between the Dodgers and the Giants of San Francisco.

There have been backhand mutterings by people close to the Dodgers that Alston's continued association with the club depends upon the team's finish. If the Dodgers win the pennant, Alston stays, is the word. If they lose, he loses, too.

If this is true, Alston may be packing Wednesday. The shocking 8-0 defeat in San Francisco in the playoff opener Monday threw the slump-ridden Dodgers into their worst predicament of the year in what must be regarded as the biggest foldup in modern history.

LOSE 11 OF LAST 14

It is not only that the Dodgers have lost 11 of their last 14, five in a row. It is not only that they've skidded from four games in front to one game behind in nine days. But it is the ease with which enemy pitchers have been able to contain their best hitters.

The Dodgers have not scored in the last 30 innings. They've managed only 10 hits off Ernie Broglio and Curt Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals and Billy Pierce of the Giants in the last three games.

If the Dodgers aren't dead, they're no great ad for the living. They resemble a tired, beaten crew, hardly able to hang on until it's over. They were beaten in the very first inning Monday when Willie Mays stroked the first of his two home runs, a two-run smash off starter and loser Sandy Koufax.

WILLIAMS TODAY

That was all the advantage Pierce needed. He permitted only three hits, two by pinch hitters and did not allow a man past second base as he registered his 16th victory of the season. It was the Giants seventh victory in the last eight meetings with the Dodgers.

Alston still talks in terms of winning, still insisting that his charges are due to break out of their batting slump.

For the second of the best-of-three series Alston named Stan Williams a mediocre right-hander with a 13-12 record to oppose Jack Sanford, the Giants' 24-game winner. Alston said he might switch to Don Drysdale, his 25-game winner.

CAN'T SCARE 'EM

The Dodger brass scoffs at the idea that Alston's job is on the line. Not so long ago, Buzzie Bavasi, the general manager, said: "Winning or losing will have no bearing on whether Alston stays or not."

"If it was a veteran club," said Alston, "I could see where kicking them in the behind and giving them hell might do some good. But with this club, I don't think you ought to scare the kids any worse than they are."

Biglerville's lone tally came in the second quarter after Knox had tallied his third touchdown when Bobby Garretson, end, scooped up a fumble and streaked 46 yards. The kick for the point was blocked.

JUNIOR HIGH LOSES OPENER TO FAUST 11

Outmanned Gettysburg Junior High suffered a 34-13 setback at the hands of Faust of Chambersburg here Monday afternoon in opening its football season.

Don Bickel's scrappy youngsters took a 6-0 lead in the first period after recovering a Faust fumble on the visitors' 44. It took three plays to score. Mike Herring hit the line for four yards, Kit Richardson shot off tackle for 25 and then Herring raced over from the 27.

Faust struck back for two tallies in the second quarter. The first came on completion of two passes for a total of 60 yards with Fred Wilkens hitting pay dirt. Larry Tasker bolted off tackle for the point. Near the end of the half Ronnie Marshall fired a 25-yard pass to Frank Letany for a score and again Tasker added the point on a plunge.

TIGERS ADD TWO

In the third period Faust drove 55 yards for a score, Chester Flagle bolting over from the two. Letany swept right end for the extra point. The Tigers added another six-pointer when Charley Raffensperger, Braves' quarterback, was hit while attempting to pass and fumbled with Jim Linn, Faust end, scooping up the ball and racing 40 yards. Letany added the point on another run.

Gettysburg threatened in the early moments of the final quarter but the tide suddenly turned when Wilkens intercepted a pass by Ronnie Sherman and streaked 85 yards. The plunge for the point was stopped.

The Braves racked up their second touchdown near the end of connected with Dennis Herring, end, on a 47-yard pass play. Bill Horner plunged for the point.

Gettysburg travels to Waynesboro for a game with West Junior High Thursday afternoon at 3:30.

Shippensburg In Tie For West Lead

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Three teams in each section hold the first place spots in the Pennsylvania State Colleges Football Conference.

Defending division champion Slippery Rock leads the western division along with California and Shippensburg.

East Stroudsburg, Millersville and Bloomsburg top the eastern section.

East Stroudsburg provided the biggest surprise in conference action over the weekend by stopping defending conference titlist West Chester's 13-game winning streak, 7-6.

Art Wall Jr. Wins Yorktowne Open

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor pocketed the $750 top prize with a one-stroke victory Monday in the sixth annual Yorktowne Open Golf Tournament.

The 1959 Masters' champion fired a six-under-par 65 to edge Henry Williams of Fleetwood, the 1962 Pennsylvania Open champion, who picked up second money of $500.

Four players who tied with 67s won $250 each. They are Pat Schwab, Wilmington, Del.; Dick Whetzle, Pikesville, Md.; Jerry Pisano, Radnor Valley, Pa., and Bob Batdorf, Manor, Pa.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Coach Nick Skorich of the Philadelphia Eagles said Monday rokoie Ralph (Catfish) Smith of the University of Mississippi would be shifted from reserve defensive halfback to offensive end because of an injury to Pete Retzlaff.

Retzlaff, the Eagles' star wide end and National Football League players representative, suffered a fracture of the left ulna—a bone in the forearm—Sunday during the first half in a 35-7 victory over Cleveland.

A damp pipe cleaner rolled in a little mild scouring powder will help to remove the stains from a teapot spout.

BOXER IN COMA FOR 11TH DAY

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Argentine heavyweight Alejandro Lavorante is in the eleventh day of a coma that followed his knockout by Johnny Riggins of San Francoso, but there are indications he may regain consciousness.

Dr. DeWitt Fox, neurosurgeon in charge of Lavorante's case, said the 25-year-old boxer's pupils are beginning to react slightly, whereas previously they were fixed. He said this is an indication that the pressure in the mid-brain area, adjacent to the so-called sleep area, is reducing.

"It should not be too long before further signs of consciousness appear," said Dr. Fox. "Just how long, we can't predict, but we hope in days, and not weeks."

REDSKINS USE OLD TRICK TO DEFEAT CARDS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some men bet on horses. Others play slot machines.

Ray Willsey teaches safety men how to crash in and throw the passer for a loss. This is only a little safer than Russian roulette.

When it works, the safety man rush can throw the offensive team for a loss at a crucial port of the football game. If it misfires, it may cost a touchdown.

Willsey is the quiet, poker-faced defensive backfield coach for the Washington Redskins.

It's no longer unusual in the National Football League to see the safety man—traditionally thought of as the last line of defense—come shooting in along with the linebackers in an all out effort to destroy the passer.

On Sunday, Redskin safety man Dale Hackbart came shooting in on fourth and one to throw Joe Childress of St. Louis for a four-yard loss on a key play in the Redskins' 24-14 victory that kept them atop the NFL's Eastern Division.

This was a good example of that old axiom: "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

It was the Cardinals who first began the widespread use of the eight-man rush, featuring a safety man, in the NFL. Willsey was the St. Louis defensive backfield coach last season.

In their first meeting here last year, St. Louis harassed Washington rookie quarterback Norman Snead unmercifully. They threw him for large losses and forced Snead into his worst day of the season.

When he hired the 34-year-old Willsey in the off-season, Redskin Coach Bill McPeak described him as the best at his trade in the NFL.

And Willsey has molded a deep defensive unit that has played a key part in Washington's undefeated record so far this year. The Redskins intercepted four Cardinal passes Sunday.

GHS JAYVEES LOSE 13-0 AT CHAMBERSBURG

The Gettysburg High School junior varsity football squad yielded a pair of touchdowns in the first quarter to Chambersburg's jayvees and submitted to a 13-0 defeat in their season opener at Chambersburg Monday afternoon.

On the first series of downs Don Kerr intercepted a pass by Ron Young and scampered for 35 yards and a Trojan touchdown. He also added the point on a placement.

A few moments later Rick Schenck broke through tackle and ran 40 yards for a score. Kerr's kick for the point was blocked.

There was no scoring thereafter as the teams battled on even terms. At times Coach Charley Lilly's Warriors moved the ball well but could not get a sustained drive underway.

Next Monday the Littlestown jayvees will come here for a game at 3:30.

The lineups:

GETTYSBURG

ENDS—Selby, W. Jones.

END SERIES TONIGHT

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Little World Series will be decided tonight, in one game or two.

The sixth game between Louisville and Atlanta was postponed because of rain Monday night after one inning. Then the committee in charge decided to end it tonight with a doubleheader if necessary.

Louisville leads three games to two in the best-of-seven series and can wrap it up in the first encounter.

GHS OPPOSES SUSQUENITA IN DAY GAME

Three of Adams County's scholastic football teams enjoyed success over the weekend and four of the five teams in the county will face action during the coming weekend.

Gettysburg High will play its first daylight game in years when it meets Susquenita at Duncannon Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in a Blue Mountain League game. The Warriors turned in a brilliant performance in routing Camp Hill last Friday 33-6 and now are right in the thick of the scrap for league honors.

In a Friday night engagement fast-improving Littlestown plays host to Dallastown in a Laurel Conference game on the Thunderbolts' field at 8 o'clock.

CARLISLE UNBEATEN

Delone Catholic, upset at Lancaster Catholic last week, has an unenviable task in attempting to halt the powerful unbeaten Carlisle gridders at McSherrystown Friday at 8.

Biglerville, which cracked the win column for the first time at Boiling Springs Saturday, will attempt to even its record when it tangles with Juniata Joint on the latter's field in another Friday evening engagement.

Bermudian Springs is idle this week, next meeting the Delone junior varsity at McSherrystown Thursday, October 11, at 7:30 p.m.

DRYSDALE IS ANGRY; WON'T PITCH TODAY

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When Don Drysdale, the Los Angeles Dodgers' 25-game winner, learned he was not going to start today's do-or-die National League playoff game against the San Francisco Giants, he snorted:

"What the hell, are they saving me for the first spring exhibition game?"

Drysdale, who has worked often in the stretch drive, obviously expected to get the call. The Dodgers were one down in the best-of-three series after losing Monday's game to the Giants 8-0.

Instead of Drysdale, Los Angeles Manager Walt Alston said he planned to start Stan Williams, an in-and-outer with a 13-12 record, a 4.51 earned run average and only four complete games in 28 starts. Right-hander Jack Sanford is set for the Giants.

MAY CHANGE MIND

Alston said he'd prefer to hold Drysdale for another day so the big right-hander would be more rested.

"What," said Drysdale shaking his head, "would be wrong with coming back with Johnny Podres in the third game."

Alston said there was a slight chance he might change his mind about pitching Williams.

"But I doubt it," he volunteered. "I could take a chance and pitch Drysdale with two days rest, but he pitched hard his last time out.

"Now we're in a position where we have to win two games. So if I don't use Williams today, I'd have to use him or Pete Richert (a rookie) in the third game anyway. It's the same pitchers any way you look at it."

LOOK TO SERIES

If Drysdale started today and Podres Wednesday, they'd both be pitching with only two days' rest. But that seems to be the way Drysdale wants it.

Another factor would be that if Drysdale and Podres were to pitch and win the two final playoff games, the Dodger pitching staff would be in bad shape for the World Series against the Yankees. The series is scheduled to start Thursday.

Alston's other worry is how to get some runs. The Dodgers have not scored a run in 30 innings. They have lost five straight and 11 of their last 14.

"This club is due to go on a two-game winning streak," said Alston. "We're sure as hell overdue. We've had winning streaks before (including one of 13 games this season and all we've got to do to start another one is get some hits and runs. It's as simple as that."

WILLIE THINKS HE'S A BETTER PLAYER NOW

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — His boyish grin is still present. So is his high-pitched laughter, his bubbling enthusiasm and, of course, that ever wondrous play, both at bat and afield.

Otherwise, there is little resemblance to the Willie Mays of 1962, perhaps baseball's greatest modern star, and the wide-eyed youth who played in the last playoff between the Giants and Dodgers back in 1951.

"I'm older and wiser, and tireder," observed Willie, as he pondered the many things that have happened to him since he joined the Giants in May 1951 as a frightened fledgling of 20, only two years out of high school.

NEEDS REST NOW

Willie had given one of his greatest performances in an 8-0 triumph over Los Angeles that gave the San Francisco Giants the first game of the best-of-three series for the National League championship. Two home runs boomed off his bat, as well as a single. He scored three runs, drove in three and capped the day with a stolen base.

"I think I'm a better ball ployer now," he said in what should go down as the understatement of the year. "But I find I need an occasional rest now. I think if I get my rest, I can do pretty good."

Willie's complaint about being tired is not new. Manager Alvin Dark had to give him a day off early last month. Later he missed three games after collapsing in Cincinnati.

49 HOMERS

What caused his collapse, which hospitalized him for two days?

"I had a lot of trouble last year," Willie said, referring to his marital problems and subsequent divorce. "Everybody knows what it was and I don't want to get into it. The doctor told me those things can store up in a person, especially one like me who keeps it inside him."

Despite his troubled mind, Mays has been able to hit over .300, drive in more runs that ever before (140) and hit more home runs than any player in the majors this year. His second homer Monday boosted his season total to 49.

PIERCE SHINES IN HOME PARK

He mopped up the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-0 in Monday's National League playoff opener at San Francisco.

Pierce probably won't be used in Dodger Stadium, and from the looks of his road record it's just as well. At Candlestick Park, he is a different pitcher.

"That's a wonderful ball park," he has said all year, and Monday he ran his record there to 12-0. On the road, he is only 4-6.

"I like the spaces there, and this ball club gets me lots of runs," said Pierce after Monday's three-hitter.

"That's as great a ball game as I've ever been involved in, and certainly one of the most important of my whole career." Pierce spent a year with Detroit and 13 with the Chicago White Sox before coming to the Giants last winter.

EAGLES' WIN IMPRESSIVE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Coach Nick Skorich of the Philadelphia Eagles is the first to admit that one game does not a season make, but he feels his club "arrived as a team" in beating Cleveland 35-7 Sunday.

It wasn't so much the fact that the Eagles won, but how they did it that impressed Skorich, who described the Cleveland game as one the Eagles had to win or almost call it a season.

Defeated in their first two National Football League games by St. Louis and New York, the Eagles turned in their finest performance of the season in all departments—offense, defense, and more important to Skorich, desire and purpose.

Both Skorich and Paul Brown, dejected coach of the Cleveland Browns, agreed on one thing: If a pro game can be won and lost on any one thing, the Eagles won and the Browns lost when Philadelphia stopped Jimmy Brown and company four times from the 3-yard line, with the score tied 7-7 in the first quarter. The ball wound up on the one after three running plays and a pass.

"It was very upsetting to our boys when they couldn't score from the three," said Brown. "Yes it had to be the turning point."

Sewing At Home Can Be Rewarding Project; Can Bring Well Dressed Look

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

If you make your own clothes to save money, make garments that are becoming to you. You'll do yourself a favor and you can always be well-dressed for the occasion.

For help in your at-home-sewing program, a correspondence course for the Pennsylvania State University is suggested. The "Make a Dress" course explains lines, colors, and fabric designs that are best suited to different figure types and personalities. The course has a comprehensive coverage of sewing techniques and fitting problems. Among the things you'll learn are new fabric finishes and how to care for them; how to alter a commercial pattern before cutting into your fabric. how to press shoulders, collars and sleeves wrinkle free, and how to use your sewing machine for some of the hand sewing.

MRS. TUNISON

Whether you're a beginner or experienced in home sewing, your garments can have that professional look when you follow directions for finishing seams, hems and buttonholes. You may send the dress you make to the correspondence course offices for suggestions and corrections. To get the complete sewing service, send your name and address with $1.75 to Correspondence Courses 202 Agricultural Education Building, University Park, Pa. Make your check or money order payable to the Pennsylvania State University. Mailing charges are prepaid.

PACKAGING COSTS HIGH

Deceptive packaging and labeling result in billions of dollars of unnecessary spending each year. Consumer pressure upon manufacturers can help to bring about a change in this practice. If each consumer will voice a complaint against deceptive packages and misleading labels, manufacturers will soon learn that consumers demand a fair amount of goods for the money spent.

Federal laws are designed to protect consumers against this unnecessary spending of money. However, the government cannot prosecute offenders unless consumers are alert to misrepresentations and willing to report them to the porper authorities.

Slack fill is one type of deceptive packaging. Packages may be larger or may appear larger than necessary to hold contents. False bottoms and outer packages larger than the inner containers are common packaging practices. Labels may be so designed as to color, size and arrangement of information that they give a misleading appearance to the package.

Laws require that many products bear labels stating contents. Labels usually have information to increase the appeal of the product, and may have little space given to a list of ingredients and statement of contents. The label may be truthful. But, if it is so designed or placed that it is hard to read, the label is of little value to the consumer.

CLEAN UPHOLSTERY

Frequent light cleaning is recommended for upholstered furniture. Cleaning often is easier than occasional intensive cleaning, and will usually give better results. Upholstery fabrics look fresher and last longer if soil doesn't collect and become deeply embedded in the fabric.

Dust and dirt are completely removed with a vacuum cleaner and a special attachment for surface and crevices. Other types of cleaning tools may only transfer dirt from the furniture to another part of the room.

You can usually clean the entire body of the furniture piece with the vacuum cleaner, giving special attention to the seams and crevices. Down-filled cushions may be cleaned with the vacuum cleaner if the cushions are lined with downproof ticking. If the ticking is not downproof, use a damp cloth.

When general cleaning of the upholstery fabric is needed, the fabric will determine the type cleaning product to use. A synthetic detergent mixed with warm water and whipped to a foam may be used satisfactorily on many fabrics.

Commercial upholstery cleaning agents are available for surface cleaning. Read the labels on these carefully and choose the product for the fabric to be cleaned. Test the cleaning compound on a small, inconspicuous area of the fabric before using on the entire surface.

IS SOLE OWNER OF NEWSPAPER

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—Publisher Henry Baker Reiley Jr. of the Somerset Daily American is now the sole owner of the morning newspaper.

Reiley, who previously owned a third interest in the corporation, announced Monday night that he has purchased the other two-thirds interest from his sister, Mrs. Margaret Reiley Stumpf, and the estates of his late father and mother.

He said Mrs. Stumpf and her husband will continue operating the Sentinel Printing Co., a subsidiary of the newspaper corporation.

The newspaper was founded by Reiley's father, who was editor and publisher until his death last February. The younger Reiley was named publisher, general manager and editor in September.

Plane Crashes On Clearfield Farm

CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP)— A Philipsburg couple escaped serious injury Monday when a light plane crashed on a farm about five miles northeast of Clearfield.

Joby Knowles, 49, was reported in fair condition at Philipsburg General Hospital with two cracked ribs and multiple bruises and lacerations of the face.

His wife, Margaret, 47, suffered scratches and bruises and was reported in fairly good condition.

Knowles told state police he was circling in the vicinity of Clearfield when he lost air speed. He said he thought he was going to hit some high tension wires and when he dropped low to avoid the wires his plane nosed into a meadow and flipped over.

RUSK ASKS 20 COUNTRIES TO ISOLATE CUBA

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk is expected to urge Latin American foreign ministers today to back tough new economic and political measures aimed at isolating and weakening Cuba.

Rusk obviously would also like a general endorsement of U.S. warnings to Fidel Castro's Soviet-backed regime that it faces U.S. military action if it threatens or uses force against any U.S. or inter-American interests.

Washington officials were not sure how far other American governments would want to go on this issue.

The 20 - nation inter-American foreign ministers conference with Rusk as chairman will continue for two days behind closed doors.

PLAN LUNCHEON

President Kennedy arranged a luncheon for the delegation chiefs and is expected to set forth his own views on the Cuban situation.

At his news conference two weeks ago, Kennedy warned that the United States would act alone if necessary in event of a serious Cuban Communist military threat to the United States or any American nation.

Kennedy then made clear that under present circumstances the situation in Cuba does not require military action.

In the U.S. view, however, it does require other steps designed both to contain Communist power in Cuba and to put new pressures on Castro with the ultimate purpose of bringing about his downfall.

HAD MANY TALKS

Rusk and Assistant Secretary of State Edwin M. Martin have held talks with Latin American officials during the past week which have encouraged them to believe a solid front of opposition to Castro and the buildup of Soviet arms in Cuba is developing.

The United States would like to see virtually all remaining trade —with the exception of some food and medical supplies — between Latin-American countries and Cuba cut off.

BANKERS SAY FARMERS HURT

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia says agriculture in areas of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware has suffered wholesale setbacks this year.

In its October business review, published Monday the bank pointed to o late spring frost, a summer drought and scattered hail storms as factors in making this a generally rough year for farmers.

The Philadelphia federal reserve district includes all of Delaware, South Jersey and roughly three-fourths of Pennsylvania—all of the state east of Altoona.

Over-all, the bank report said "some farmers will come through this season without having to increase their indebtedness, but others may have to borrow to tide them over an (expected) poor crop year.

"It is hard to see how net farm income can show anything but a decline," the review continued. "Prices have not been strong enough to offset crop losses; and high production costs, particularly for those who must buy livestock feed, will make a big dent in the credit side of the ledger."

The bank noted late crops will benefit by September rains, "but the relief came too late to be of significant help to most of those (crops) maturing earlier."

Let's Look At The Record

INDECISION TOWARD CUBA
Stevenson Weasels With Nebulosities
State Department Plays With Words

BY JIM DAN HILL, PH.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

AMERICA is still playing with words while Russian communism knifes into the Western Hemisphere through the "soft under belly," to paraphrase Winston Churchill in World War II. In Cuba, an imported, second rate revolution in a third rate nation has been nursed into a world problem.

Instead of decisive action when needed, the situation is now further dignified and magnified by nebulous perorations in the United Nations by America's ambassador, Mr. Stevenson. He has nothing better to offer than:

"Our world is now a crowded house . . . we believe it is the duty of all nations to stay their hands in pursuit of national ambitions involving conflict with others until the world community has had a chance to find solutions through patient and quiet diplomatic effort."

These are not the words of a statesman or a leader. They are paving stones for the road to compromise and appeasement. England's Chamberlain, of 1938, could not have better voiced the policy that hastened England into the abyss of World War II.

Russia's Gromyko, the Red opposite number to Mr. Stevenson in the U. S., recognized the weasel words for what they were. In more than an hour of dynamic, aggressive and explosive vituperation he aggressively posed the proposition that American intervention in Cuba would trigger world war. It was calculated to make headlines that would frighten Americans. The extent to which this purpose was achieved cannot be determined.

Once again it was demonstrated that nebulous timidity is an invitation to threats. Acceptance of threats leads to increasing timidity, compromises and further appeasement.

IN THE MEANTIME, the State Department and the White House placidly assure America with further play on words. The words are "defensive" and "offensive."

The Russian build-up of arms and "technicians" in Cuba is not alarming, but is purely defensive, they say. Were America to infiltrate into Hungary 4,500 jet fighter plane pilots and mechanics, and guided missile technicians in support of a revolt for freedom in that unhappy nation, would Russia accept it as a "purely defensive activity?"

Does calling a jet Mig-15 or Mig-19 an "interceptor aircraft" make it a defensive weapon when it is known to have the capability of flying from its Havana base to Cape Canaveral in a matter of minutes?

Can not the same skills and techniques that launch a missile from ground to air against an intruder aircraft be easily transitioned into facilities and skills for launching but slightly longer ranged missiles from ground to ground targets — such as from Matanzas to Miami?

Show me a boy who can hit a tack head at 50 feet with a .22 rifle and I will show you a boy who can hit a target bull's-eye at 300 yards. The same basic principle applies to men with missiles.

Short range is not a proof of use or intent. A shotgun is a short range weapon. But in the hands of an irate mountaineer, you could never convince the reluctant bridegroom that it was not an offensive instrument.

TWO WEEKS ago this column complained of the semantic fraud being perpetrated upon the American people by the soothing, official use of the words "defensive" and "offensive" in connection with the arms and personnel build-up by Russia in Cuba.

That week's release was hardly off the press before another soothing play on the words was issued to the press and television audiences.

Within the next 45 hours, a Cuban pilot of a Russian jet trainer defected. He flew to freedom at Key West, but the American radar did not detect his approach. He landed without incident to tell his story.

If an unarmed trainer plane could get to Key West without interception. can anyone question the offensive capabilities of a Mig-19? Moreover, the defector pilot reported at least 200 Mig-15's and Mig-19's in Cuba!

Current newspapers carry photographis of Russian torpedo boats as deck cargo of large freighters. They are defensive instruments only so long as they are used for patrols against arms smugglers supplying Cuban freedom fighters.

But the torpedoes they carry are for 100 per cent offensive action against surface warships of a type that no nation has in the Caribbean except America.

TO SAY Ambassador Stevenson and Washington have announced no positive policy would be hardly true. Stevenson, Rusk and the President have all threatened to do something should Cuba try to export any arms to other Latin American nations.

But by what rule of logic or international law is it proper for the Cubans to receive as imports something that the United States will not allow them to export?

Twenty-six Mechanicsburg Naval Supply Depot employes today shared the depot's 20th birthday by sporting new length-of-service pins representing a combined total of 530 years of service to the federal government.

One of the 26, Edward C. Gray of Mounted Route, Mechanicsburg, earned a 30-year service award. The rest received 20-year pins and certificates.

Among those receiving 20-year pins were John C. Heiser (center), Gettysburg R. 2, and Ralph R. Smyth (right), Gardners R. 2. Capt. Walter G. Bacon is shown making the presentation.

Says Real Estate Promoters Unlucky

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Today's crop of real estate promoters just aren't as flamboyant, or as lucky as they used to be.

Take Eugene M. Elliott, the limber-tongued promoter of Weedon Island back in the 1920s, says realtor Walter P. Fuller. In 1924, turned up Indian skeltons on the island that made archaeological history.

"Elliott told me he'd gotten some bones and buried them out there and arranged for Professor Fewkes of the Smithsonian to come down," says Fuller. "He said he was planning to direct the professor to the bones and get a lot of publicity.

"But when Elliott tried to steer him to this fake, Fewkes saw it was fixed. He didn't even dig there, went and dug in another spot and found the real McCoy. So what started out as a fake was a real find."

BALTIMORE (AP)—A theatrical mentalist billed as a man "with x-ray eyes" wore adhesive tape and a black cloth to obscure his vision as he walked into a store for a demonstration.

Without hesitation, he approached a stranger in uniform and said, "Hello, officer. How are you?"

The performance would have been more astonishing if the man in uniform had been a policeman instead of a soft drink truck driver.

HATE, FEAR AND ANGUISH HOLD OXFORD, MISS.

By RELMAN MORIN

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — After dark, a sense of foreboding settles over the little college town.

It creeps through the streets, wet from a half-hearted drizzle and converges on the campus of the University of Mississippi. You can almost touch it in the silence.

It is a mixture of hate and fear and deep anguish, all compounded by the frightening question, "What next?"

There is nothing you can put your finger on. A knot of hard-eyed men gather on a street corner, talking in low tones. They grow silent when you approach them, or when an Army jeep cruises past. The discovery of an arsenal of weapons in the hands of people the Oxonians say are "outsiders." The note of tension in the voice of the proprietor of a cafe when she refuses to open the door to a group of young men peering and rapping on the glass. "I don't know them," she says. "But I know they are like the ones who caused all the trouble Sunday night."

TWO HAVE DIED

Two persons died Sunday night, and more than 75 were injured when rioting raged across the gracious, tree-shaded campus of the university.

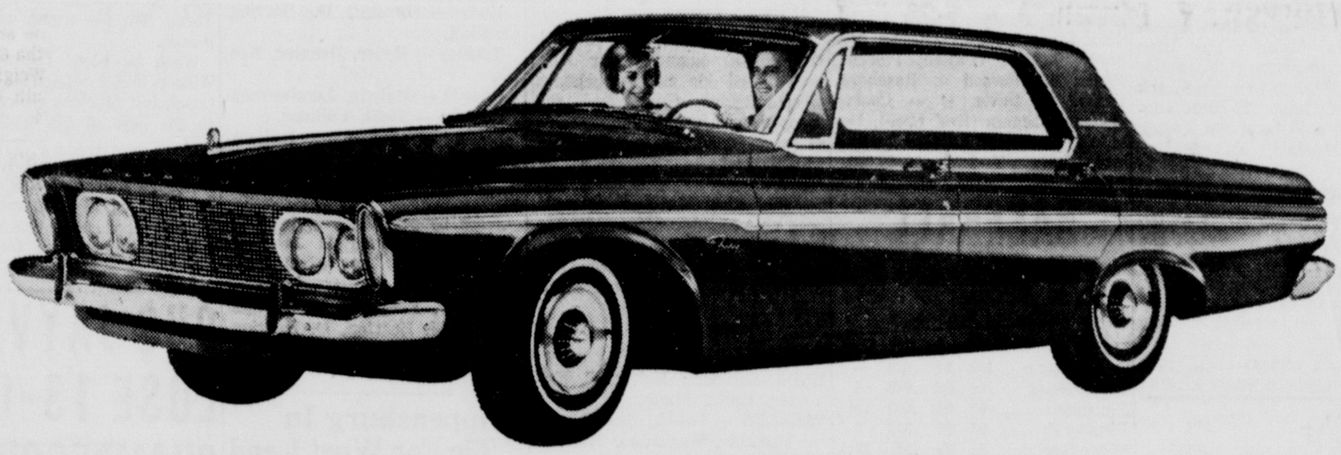

A pile of telegrams covers a desk in one of the main administration buildings of the university. Each one has much the same anxious message. "Worried about you. Suggest you come home until troubles over." They are addressed to students, and all arrived after the explosion on the campus Sunday night.

The city, and especially the campus, is one large Army camp. Troops guard all the entrances, and they have sealed off the court house square. At night, the soldiers, their helmets and fixed bayonets are etched in black against the white walls of the court house.

TV DOES GOOD JOB ON CRISIS IN DEEP SOUTH

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television did a conscientious job of staying on top of the swift-moving events in and around the university town of Oxford, Miss. All networks broke into regular programs frequently with bulletins.

When President Kennedy postponed his television talk about the situation from early evening to 10 p.m., the three networks immediately opened up their precious Sunday night time.

5 NEW PROGRAMS

Five new programs moved into their network positions over the weekend, ranging from a slapstick comedy series to Jack Webb's anthology program.

Technically, Jackie Gleason's "American Scene Magazine" is a new show. Unhappily, the evidence on Saturday night's premiere indicates it will be a faithful but faint carbon of the old Gleason show.

All the old familiar ingredients were there—the pretty girls, the dancers and Jackie in an assortment of comedy roles.

CALLED AMUSING

The new Roy Rogers-Dale Evans variety hour, which premiered at the same hour on ABC Saturday, was much more entertaining. It featured some of the sights at the Seattle World's Fair, some mild comedy and some pleasant singing numbers with both Roy and Dale uncorking surprisingly fine voices. It was a nice, warm family show.

"I'm Dickens . . . He's Fenster," a new ABC program on Friday, stars two engaging comedians, John Aspin and Marty Ingels, and is uninhibited and ingenuous enough to be amusing.

"Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," which moved into ABC's Saturday night schedule, looked like a pretty weak entry. The comedy was almost nonexistent, and although the series is built around a freshman senator from some unidentified agricultural region, the first show was almost entirely about a rich widow with Washington social aspirations.

WEBB SHOW GOOD

Jack Webb's first true story in his new CBS series made a hero of a doctor—safe enough this season. Webb's man removed a live Japanese shell from the body of a Marine on the deck of a destroyer. It was based on a real wartime incident, was well produced and promised auspiciously for the rest of the shows to come.

ABC's "Closeup" returned for another season with a stimulating and disturbing report on education in the Soviet Union.

GOLDBERG GETS JUSTICE OATH; JFK PRESENT

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy took time out from the crisis at the University of Mississippi Monday to attend the opening of the new term of the Supreme Court.

Both the President and his brother Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, were present as Kennedy's appointee, Arthur J. Goldberg, took the oath as associate justice.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, is other Cabinet officers and many high government officials also were present.

Goldberg moved to the court from the post of secretary of labor.

WARREN PRESIDES

Goldberg first took the constitutional oath in the justices' private conference room. Only the other justices were present.

The judges then entered the cocurt with Goldberg taking a seat at the desk of the court clerk.

Chief Justice Earl Warren announced the retirement of Associate Justice Fexlix Frankfurter, paying tribute to him for his long service. Warren then announced that Goldberg had been named to replace Frankfurter, and Goldberg stepped forward to take the oath.

As Goldberg took his seat at the end of the high court bench, Associate Justice Potter Stewart leaned over, shook hands, and said, "Welcome, Mr. Justice."

BRIEF CEREMONY

The whole ceremony took only 6½ minutes. The President left almost immediately after it was over.

After the opening ceremonies, Warren turned quickly to routine business. The first item was the admission of 45 attorneys to practice before the Supreme Court.

After an 18-minute opening session, the court recessed until next Monday.

Goldberg's wife, son and daughter were in the marble courtroom when the new justice, wearing the black silk robe of the office, swore to administer justice equally, without respect to persons.

OMAHA (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will appear here Oct. 10 on behalf of his former interior secretary, Fred A. Seaton, who is running for governor of Nebraska on the Republican ticket.

College Textbooks' Exemption Is Out

HARRISBURG (AP) — The exemption from the state sales tax on textbooks sold in college book stores was ruled illegal Monday by Dauphin County Court.

The court, in a 3-1 decision, upheld an appeal against the exemption taken by the Rittenhouse Book Store, Philadelphia.

The Department of Revenue had granted the exemption in an order.

The sales tax applies to textbooks sold by commercial outlets.

Rittenhouse had challenged the department's authority to grant exemptions not specified in the tax law.

Judges Walter R. Sohn, Homer L. Kreider and Carl B. Shelley voted with the majority. Judge Lee F. Swope dissented.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Three marshals from Philadelphia were among the federal officials dispatched to Oxford, Miss., to escort James H. Meredith to the campus of the University of Mississippi Sunday night. A spokesman for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania marshal's office said it was operating with a skeleton force during the emergency. Meanwhile, there were indications prison guards may have been sent to Mississippi from the Lewisburg Federal Prison.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., says the questions of the world's hungry, of disarmament and of booming populations must be solved before America can fully turn to the problems of living in an affluent society.

BRITAIN MAY SELL MISSILES

LONDON (AP) — The Foreign Office disclosed Monday Britain may sell guided missiles in the Middle East following a new American arms deal with Israel.

The U.S. deal to supply Israel with hawk ground-to-air antiaircraft rockets ended a long-term Western embargo on such sales.

British informants here said the American decision was "merely notified to this country shortly before its announcement" — and without prior consultation. Under the old American, British and French declaration, the Western Allies are supposed to consult together before injecting new weapons into the sensitive Middle East region.

Government officials in London have made no secret of their irritation at U.S. arms sales policies, particularly to such countries as West Germany, because these have had the effect of pushing British weapons out of their old markets.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The queen of the 1963 National Tobacco Festival is Sandra Doidge of Oreland, Pa. She was crowned Saturday at halftime ceremonies of the West Virginia-Virginia Tech football game by Gov. Albertis S. Harrison Jr. of Virginia.

NEW YORK (AP) — "My Fair Lady," the longest running musical in theatrical history, is gone from Broadway after 2,717 performances over a 6½-year span.

All the settings are being stored for a possible revival production.

SUNDAY NOT DAY OF REST FOR PRESIDENT

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was the Sabbath, but not a day of rest at the White House. There was no lull before the storm.

The high-voltage hours of Saturday flowed right into Sunday, and the lights in the Army section of the Pentagon blazed past dawn.

The Pentagon's bright windows were just one tipoff that the clash between the state of Mississippi and the federal government over enrolling a Negro into the all-white state university was building toward a climax.

TALKED TO BARNETT

The President canceled at the last moment a weekend trip to Newport, R.I. and remained in the White House, directing what his aides described as "a cool operation."

Three times Saturday he talked by telephone to Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi who had defied court orders and refused to permit Negro James H. Meredith to enroll in the school. Then Kennedy gave orders which kept the Pentagon's lights burning.

Cooly deliberately and with no signs of anger, according to his assistants, the President arranged for absorbing the Mississippi National Guard into federal service and for assembling regular Army troops.

ATTENDED MASS

Dressed in a gray suit, white shirt and blue tie, he dined at his regular hour—about 8:30 p.m.

Later he signed the proclamation and executive order formally thrusting the federal government's power into the school crisis, and announced he was going to address the nation on radio and television Sunday night.

It was early Sunday by the time he went upstairs to his living quarters. He turned on the hi-fi and listened to music before going to bed.

Sunday broke bright and rather chilly. By 10 a.m. Kennedy was attending Mass at St. Stephen's church.

Twice Kennedy took time out for a thoughtful stroll about the south lawn, the vast spread on the Washington Monument side of the White House grounds.

New reports from Oxford—the campus of the University of Mississippi — flowed into the White House. At least a dozen times the President talked by telephone with his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

In shirt sleeves he worked on his speech, sharpening the emphasis and revising to conform with developments.

About an hour before air time, the President abruptly delayed his speech for 2½ hours, until 10 p.m., whipping up speculation that a truce or settlement had been reached.

RIOTS ERUPTED

Then the word came: Meredith was in the school, had been given an apartment but not allowed to register because, said school officials, it was Sunday.

Then he was talking, appealing to the students and Mississippi to accept the situation, obey the law, and to close the books on the case.

The answer came before he finished speaking. The campus erupted into riot and bloodshed, and federal reinforcements were ordered to Oxford.

As the hour hand bit deeply into Monday morning, the President and the attorney general waited in the office receiving reports of a crisis that was far from over.

Texas fugitive Benjack Cage has been granted Brazilian citizenship by the Justice Ministry in Rio de Janeiro. Cage fled the U.S. to escape a 10-year prison sentence for insurance swindling.

Cage went to Brazil in mid-1958. Gilbert went there last June.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, while reaffirming his opposition to a shorter work week, says demands for a 35-hour week will prosper unless industry and government provide more jobs.

Wirtz said on NBC's "Meet the Press" television program in New York that he doesn't think union leaders are irresponsible for pushing their shorter-hours demands if their motive is to spread existing work and reduce unemployment "even though I may disagree" with the proposal.

Thomas J. Watson Jr., board chairman of the International Business Machines Corp., and A. Philip Randolph, Negro president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters (AFL-CIO), will re-receive the National Urban League's "1962 equal opportunity day awards" at a dinner in New York Nov. 19.

REACTION TO KENNEDY TALK IS SECTIONAL

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional reaction to President Kennedy's address to the nation on the University of Mississippi integration crisis split generally along sectional lines.

Following the president's radio-television address Sunday night urging compliance by Mississippians with federal court orders, seven of the state's eight members of Congress attacked it sharply. Senators from the North and West praised it as being an expression of the public will.

SENATOR DISAGREES

Somewhare in between was Sen. Allan J. Ellender, D-La. Referring to federal court orders demanding admission of Negro James H. Meredith to the all-white University at Oxford, Miss., Ellender said: "I don't like the decision of the court in this case a minute, but since it is the law, I don't see how it can be bypassed."

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said succinctly, "I disagree entirely with the President's speech."

PRAISE FROM SOME

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said, "Thank God that reason, understanding and law seem to have prevailed."

The President's speech drew support from Republicans, too. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass. said, "I thought the President expressed the sentiments of the government and the people of the United States extremely well. I support wholeheartedly what he said."

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., said of the speech, "Of course, I agree with it and I hope it will be effective."

Eastland joined Sen. John Stennis and five of Mississippi's six House members in a statement denouncing the speech and Kennedy's actions in marshalling federal forces to back up the court orders.

"Just as we have in the past, we shall continue to oppose the invasion of the civil rights of all the people of these United States and the concentration of all power government into some form of a totalitarian state," they declared.

Former President Harry S. Truman, in a Kansas City interview, commented that Kennedy "is on the right track. He's doing exactly what he should do. To straighten it out, he should take whatever steps are necessary."

UPPER DARBY, Pa. (AP) — eleven boys, aged 13 to 16, who police said admitted breaking windows and punching holes in the ceiling of a bus carrying students from a high school football game, must make restitution for the damages authorities said. No charges were filed.

The special bus, carrying 72 students from the game between Monsignor Bonner and Father Judge High School at Villanova Stadium Sunday, detoured directly to the Upper Darby Township police station after some of the students began the rowdyism.

Barnett's Political Future In Mississippi Seems To Be CertainAfterDefyingCourt

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mississippi's Gov. Ross R. Barnett, while doing himself no end of political good at home with his defiance, didn't have to think hard to figure how the federal government could box him in.

And, when he did get boxed, he said what must have been obvious to him from the start: that the power of the federal government was too much for him.

Barnett had only one long chance of winning in his defiance of a U.S. court order that James H. Meredith, 29-year-old Negro and a Korean War veteran, must be enrolled as a student at the University of Mississippi.

NOT FIRST CASE

The chance — to far-fetched to be considered seriously by anyone who understands American history and government—was that President Kennedy might chicken out and fail to back up the federal court.

Kennedy wasn't the first president to run into defiance from a state or a governor. What they could do, he could do, and he did, which is what practically everybody outside of Mississippi must have expected him to do.

President Jackson got a sharp taste of this defiance before the ivil War when South Carolina, because it disliked a certain tariff act, decided it wouldn't let federal officials collect the duties in that state.

FAUBUS IN '57

This was the so-called doctrine of nullification—sometimes called interposition—in which a state assumes the right to decide when to, and when not to, obey a law or consider it constitutional.

Then in 1957 Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus tried interposition without directly saying so. In fact, he was pretty oblique about his whole performance.

BARNETT TRIED

He avoided direct defiance of the court order by saying he had called out the Guard to keep order. But the effect was the same. The troops kept the children out of school.

Faubus backtracked fast when President Eisenhower sent in federal troops and, to take control of the Guard from Faubus, called the state troops into national service.

With these two examples of interposition — and others — completely rejected and discredited in Americon life, Barnett nevertheless tried his own brand of interposition.

DIRECT DEFIANCE

It must have been plain to him Kennedy could do not less than Eisenhower if he pushed his defiance too hard. He pushed, even further than Faubus.

He directly defied the court order to let Meredith register at Ole Miss by personally blocking him. The court then found Barnett guilty of contempt.

It gave him until Tuesday morning to clear himself—by letting Meredith in—or face a fine of $10,000 a day for every day he blocked the Negro, plus being locked up.

HE'S A LAWYER

Meantime, although he was slow in doing it, Kennedy sent in marshals, prepared to send in troops, and, like Eisenhower, called the Mississippi National Guard into federal service to take it from under control of the governor.

Thus Barnett got himself caught between the court and the President, a box from which there could be no escape since, if necessary, the troops could be used not only to get Meredith registered but to arrest Barnett for the court.

Barnett had to know this was exactly the box he'd get into. He is not a novice in law or history. He is a lawyer himself and has an attorney general to tell him about the law if he has any doubts.

BLOODY RACISM

So the Mississippi governor finally conceded he was outmatched. But as an aftermath of Barnett's performance men were shot in rioting on the school campus Sunday night and others were hurt.

The United States, which is trying to win the friendship of Africans and other colored people around the world and keep them from communism, becomes an international spectacle of bloody racism.

But, since Barnett had the support of a lot, perhaps most, white Mississippians where the Negro vote doesn't count for much, he should have a very successful political career for some time. Faubus in Arkansas got himself re-elected handsomely after only a half-hearted show of defiance.

Advisory Council Discusses Voting

The Carroll's Tract Advisory Council of the Adams County Farmers' Association met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin F. Bream, Gettysburg R. 3, when the "General Election" was discussed with John Diehl, Fairfield R. 1, as the leader.

Diehl pointed out the advantages of the secret ballot and noted that no one knows how another votes unless the voter himself tells. "It is a criminal offense to pry into another's act of voting," he said. "Under self-government we are expected as voters to select good leaders and by our votes give direction to government. So we can run it or we can ruin it, we can corrupt it through selfishness and destroy it by neglect."

The next meeting of the council will be held at 8 p.m. on October 19 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dolly, Fairfield R. 1, when George Musselman, Fairfield R. 1, will lead a discussion on "Project 70."

7 INJURED IN CAR ACCIDENT

Seven persons were hurt and four were hospitalized in a high-speed two-car crash at Wayne Heights, Waynesboro, about 10:30 p.m. Sunday.

John Albert Sheeley, 48, Smithsburg R. 1, Md., driver of one of the cars, has been charged before Justice of the Peace J. Edgar Oller, Waynesboro, with driving while under the influence of intoxicants.

State police said Sheeley was driving westward through Wayne Heights at "excessive speed" when his 1955 Pontiac sedan struck the rear of a 1952 Chrysler driven by Mrs. Florence M. Gilbert, 58, Waynesboro.

CAR HITS POLE

The Gilbert car was spun off the north side of the highway and Sheeley's car continued 179 feet westward after the impact, finally coming to a stop against a utility pole.

Sheeley's car struck the base of the pole with such force that it was moved two inches westward and crossarms were knocked askew.

Hospitalized were:

Mrs. Gilbert, who had a broken right ankle, cuts and bruises of the forehead, arms and legs, and who also suffered from shock.

Mrs. Martha Hahn, 47, Taneytown, who had a broken left hip, fractures of the left hand and cuts of the scalp and lower lip.

Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. Hann were the most seriously hurt. Both were reported in satisfactory condition at the Waynesboro Hospital today.

OTHERS TREATED

Treated and released were Mrs. Maye Shockey, 55, Waynesboro, cut on the back of the head and who sustained a sprained right ankle; Kenneth L. Chamberlin, 32, Waynesboro, cuts and multiple abrasions of the scalp, and Mrs. Peters, who sustained bruises of both legs.

Mrs. Shockey was a pessenger in the Gilbert car and all others were in the Sheeley car.

Police said Mrs. Gilbert had just pulled onto Rt. 16 from Geiser Ave. in Wayne Heights when the Sheeley car came over the brow of the hill.

EXPECT KILL OF RIVER FISH

HARRISBURG (AP)—State officials fear a large number of fish may be killed in the Susquehanna River from Williamsport southward as the result of a critical buildup of natural acid from the stream's western headwaters.

Walter A. Lyon, chief sanitary engineer of the Health Department, said Monday night the amount of acid in the river's West Branch above Williamsport is reaching critical levels.

"We expect that a fairly large fish kill may result," he added.

Lyon explained that the PH reading had dropped from 7.5 on Saturday to 4.25 late today. PH is a measure of acid and alkalin with "7" fixed arbitrarily as neutral.

He attributed the rapid rose of acid to heavy rains running off acid areas of the western watershed, particularly in Clearfield County. He said the acid comes from abandoned coal mines, both deep and strip operations.

CHANGE TICKET SALE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants are taking no more mail applications for tickets to the World Series.

All remaining seats will be sold, beginning today, at Candlestick Park.

If the Giants win the National League playoff series with the Los Angeles Dodgers, the first World Series game will be in San Francisco at noon (2 p.m. EST), Thursday.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana radio said Monday night three counter-revolutionaries have been killed and seven others captured in Las Villas Province.

The broadcast, monitored in Key West, did not say when the action occurred.

The broadcast claimed seven other members of the same band were captured.

IS CLEARED IN MURDER CASE

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—A Butler County jury has cleared a 19-year-old Morris Steinhiser of Cabot on charges of accessory to murder in the arson-slaying of Mrs. Pauline Ritter, 67, of Cabot.

However the jury found Steinhiser guilty Monday night on charges of accessory before and after the fact of armed robbery and burglary.

The eight-man and four-woman jury returned the verdict after nearly four hours of deliberations.

Judge Clyde S. Shumaker said he would hand down the sentence at a future date.

Steinhiser, who was accused of furnishing the rifle used in the holdup that led to Mrs. Ritter's death last January, smiled upon hearing the jury's verdict.

Scranton Speaks Up For Auto Drivers

GALLITZIN, Pa. (AP)—Commercial drivers and those who drive for pleasure or convenience should have different standards in the state, says U. S. Rep. Wilham W. Scranton.

"I would like to see a scheme whereby a person who drives for his living would not be deprived of his commercial license because of an arrest for a personal traffic violation," the Republican candidate for governor said.

"It seems unfair to treat a person whose livelihood depends on his driver's license the same as a person who drives for other reasons," he added.

ELECTROCUTED FOR SLAYING

MCALESTER, Okla. (AP) — A 25-year-old Sweetwater, Tex., man convicted along with a Pennsylvania man in the slaying of a young golf professional, died Monday night in the Oklahoma electric chair for the crime.

As he was being strapped into the chair, Shelby Leon Doggett smiled and winked at Protestant Chaplain C. O. Bigbie.

Doggett and an accomplice, Ronald G. Lockwood of Altoona, Pa., were convicted of killing Jimmy Lee Lanman, 24, of Lawton, Okla., in August, 1960. Lockwood was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Lanman had picked the pair up as hitchhikers on a county road some 13 miles southeast of Lawton. Officers said they apparently robbed Lanman and took his car. They were arrested in Pennsylvania driving the car.

Ice Fishing For Trout Is Legal

HARRISBURG (AP)—Ice fishing for trout will be permitted this year on Pennsylvania lakes of more than 10 acres.

The new regulation was adopted Monday by the State Fish Commission. It permits such fishing from the first freeze until Jan. 31, 1963, with a daily limit of three trout.

Russell Orr, chief of conservation education, said the rule was adopted because most ice fishermen who now catch trout usually inadvertently return them to the water fatally injured.

The commission also opened Lake Erie to year around bass fishing and removed the bag limit on snapping turtles.

FEAR FLU OUTBREAK

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Health Department renewed its warning today about the possibility of an influenza outbreak this winter.

Secretary Charles L. Wilbar Jr. advised immunization for persons of all ages suffering from debilitating diseases of the heart and lungs.

"The disease is more apt to be serious in those persons over 45 and pregnant women," he added.

CENTENARIANS NO RARITY IN PENNSYLVANIA

HARRISBURG — Centenarians are not a rarity in Pennsylvania.

This fact was established following a report from the Pennsylvania Department of Health which made a statistical five-year study of centenarian deaths between 1957-1961.

During this period Pennsylvania had 470 residents whose age at death was reported to be over 99 years. Of these 475 deaths, 342 were females, or about three times the number of males, which was 128.

Surpassing the century mark were 257 whose ages ranged from 101 to 115.

CAUSES DIFFER

Heart disease, as in the general population, claimed the greatest number of deaths. The other leading causes of death of centenarians differ from that found in the general population. General arteriosclerosis was the second most frequent cause of death. Other causes were vascular lesions of the central nervous system, influenza and pneumonia. Cancer, which is the second most frequent cause of death in the overall population, is in fifth place. Accidental falls account for the same number of deaths in this age group as cancer.

Philadelphia and Allegheny County were given as the residence of the decedent in 96 and 48 deaths respectively. Other counties in which the number of centenarians dying was high were Lancaster with 18, Luzerne with 17, Berks and Montgomery 16, and Erie County with 15. Bedford, Centre, Elk, Fulton, Montour, Pike and Tioga Counties had no resident centenarian deaths between 1957 and 1961.

3 CENTURIES OF ASIAN RULE END MONDAY

By HENRY HARTZENBUSCH

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea (AP) —Three centuries of Dutch colonial rule in Asia ended today with the raising of the United Nations flag over West New Guinea in a prelude to Indonesian takeover of the rugged jungle territory May 1.

The U.N. flag was hoisted alongside the Dutch flag over the former Dutch governor's palace under an agreement providing for U.N. administration of the territory for the next seven months. The United Nations, with the backing of a 1,000-man Pakistani security force, will try to maintain order among the Papuan inhabitants until Indonesia moves in.

THREATENED FORCE

The two-stage transfer, devised by U.S. diplomat Ellsworth Bunker, was agreed on by Indonesia and the Netherlands after Indonesia threatened to take the territory by force. The Dutch had held on to West New Guinea in 1949 when Indonesia won sovereignty over the rest of the prewar Dutch East Indies.

Administration of New Guinea was handed over by acting Gov. Hain Veldkamp to Jose Rolz-Bennet of Guatemala, temporary U.N. administrator.

A flag-raising ceremony in Hollandia's public plaza was cancelled to avoid provoking Papuans. Indonesia has promised them a self-determination plebiscite before the end of 1969.

Loss of New Guinea leaves the Netherlands with only two overseas territories — the relatively bean.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Did you ever see a man who'd studied algebra in high school try later in life to make out his income tax report unaided?

Few sights are more pitiful.

Did you ever see a man with two college degrees try to fight his way through a throng of women shoppers in a supermarket in an attempt to reach the canned dog food department?

He's equally pitiful.

ONCE FAIRLY SIMPLE

The question arises as to whether our modern educational system any longer fits men to face the problems of modern living.

One of the main tasks of education in any society is to teach the people how to deal with the realities of their existence.

In a savage or barbaric society this isn't too difficult. As soon as a lad learns how to till the soil, or to hunt and kill game, he is properly regarded as qualified to grab a bride and set up housekeeping. He's a man of the world, and he fits into that world normally and naturally and with a minimum of strain.

THE THEORY TODAY

As a society becomes more complex, however, the problem of properly educating its young becomes steadily more complex, too.

In earlier days in America it was enough for a man to learn reading, writing, arithmetic—and some kind of trade by which he could earn his bread and butter. It was nice if he also knew which teams played at the battle of Thermopylae, and why Rome rose and fell—but it wasn't strictly necessary.

The theory of education today seems to be to cram more and more culture and information into our youth in order that they will feel more at ease in a civilization that emphasizes leisure.

CAN'T COPE

But to many thoughtful observers it appears that the plight of many grownups is a result of not being taught how to cope with the realities of civilization as it actually is.

If we had the power to modify the school system, we'd teach less ancient history and offer instruction in such matters as follows:

How to fill out a government form. The ability to fill out a government form without a nervous breakdown is the truest mark of an educated man.

How to get along with women. This is the second most essential skill needed for condifent living in a changing world.

OTHER BIG PROBLEMS

How to stand in line gracefully.

How to use credit cards and still avoid bankruptcy.

A hobby that will enable you to develop your mind while waiting for your wife to get dressed.

How to get a broken gadget in your home fixed without agreeing to adopt the repair man or to finance his family on a trip to Europe.

How to find a parking space.

These are the most pressing problems a civilized man faces today, and until we develop an educational system that enables us to solve them all the other learning we stuff into our heads isn't going to help much in creating the better life civilization is supposed to bring.

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you an old-timer?

An old-timer is a person who enjoys using the present as a reminiscent springboard back into the past. Anything that happens today reminds him of something else that happened in some yesterday of his life.

There is a difference between an old-timer and an old fogy. An old fogy is a living fossil who feels everything in the past was better. An old-timer simply gets a nostalgic pleasure out of recalling what went before—whether it was better or worse.

You are probably an old-timer yourself if you can remember when—

MAKING MUSIC

You first learned to make music by humming through a piece of tissue paper on a pocket comb. "The Stars and Stripes Forever" was perhaps the best tune for this form of art.

Most boys carried their marbles in a Bull Durham tobacco sack.

It was a patriotic duty to help beat the kaiser in the first World War by saving tinfoil from cigarette packs.

Folks feared the first family that started cooking with gas would blow up the whole neighborhood.

No baby had got off to a proper start in life until its fond parents had had it photographed, sans diaper, lying tummy down on a cloth of plush.

It was widely believed that if Congress raised the income tax rate above 10 per cent it would spur a bloody, nationwide revolution.

WORKED PROBLEMS

Johnny not only could read—but could also write legibly and work out problems in arithmetic.

Few school boards would hire a married schoolmarm, because a married woman's place was in the home.

Farmers blamed their woes on Wall Street, and Wall street regarded William Jennings Bryan as a wild-eyed radical.

The liniment for men and horses came out of the same bottle.

Foods were fried in lard, and nobody had ever heard of poly-unsaturated fats.

If you left a waitress more than a dime tip, she knew for sure you were from out of town.

High school lads got their first lessons in feminine anatomy by sneaking into a burlesque show on Saturday afternoon. But they learned less than they do today by looking at the girdle ads in a woman's magazine.

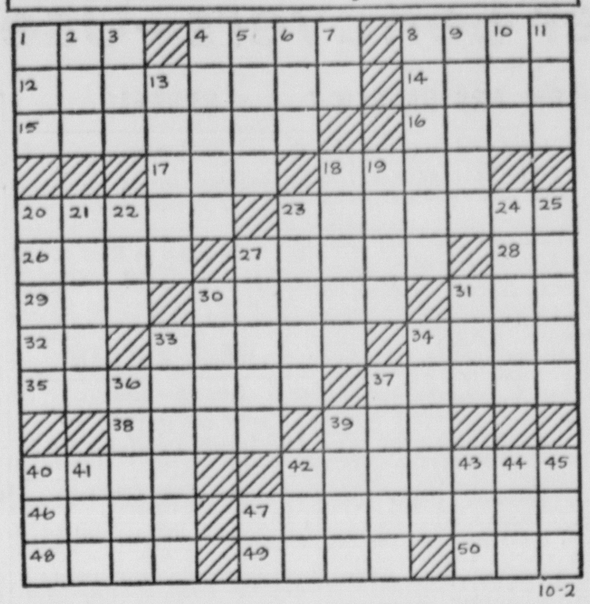

There was no such thing as a joint family checking account. If a wife wanted a new bonnet, rather than ask her husband for the money she'd save it up from her household allowance.

Yes, that's how America used to be. Remember, old-timer?

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

THE LANGUID EYE. A lovely writes: My problem is heavy eyelids. I was born with them.

The area under the brow is so full that it completely covers the movable lid, not to mention any shadow and liner I might use. As I like the accent make-up gives to most eyes, I am wondering if there is any possible way I could apply it with advantage to my own.

The Answer: Eyelids of this type are lost neither to beauty nor cosmetics. In fact the lids give the eyes an intriguing, languid, Oriental look—one that a deft use of makeup will readily enhance.

The method described below is designed for the naturally full lid. It is not meant for lids that are puffed from lack of sleep or stretched tissue.

The steps are: 1, When you start a makeup from scratch, apply your foundation and powder to the full areas of the lids. They will then absorb reflected light and seem less prominent. 2, Film the movable lids with white shadow. This brightens the dark corners and makes for more visibility.

3, Whisk the upper lashes outward with mascara. And, if you are adventuresome, rim the underside of the lashes—along the line of growth — with kohl. 4, Brush-groom the brows, working in a little hair wax. If the brows are light, omit the wax and darken each strand with mascara.

And there you have it—accent aplenty!

Health

The small boy went to camp.
His parents were worried.
They thought he'd be homesick,
Get a scratch or tummy ache.
They waited word from him.
But not a peep from camp.
Sonny was having great fun.
No more coddling or pampering,
He was experiencing new life,
Self-reliance, expressions,
And self-determination.
The boy was growing up.

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—Weather permitting, a total of some 25,000 persons are expected to turn out Wednesday and Saturday for the 25th annual Rolling Rock hunt races.

WASHINGTON (AP) — American and British determination to stand firm on Berlin has been restated by President Kennedy and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home.

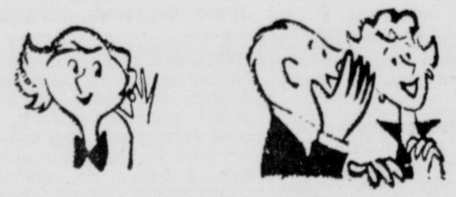

After the two met Sunday at the White House, a communique said "there was complete agreement on the assessment of the dangers of the Berlin situation and on the continued need for the Western powers to stand firm on their vital interests."

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Thieves forced open the front door of Regal Furs Sunday night and escaped with two mink jackets and 12 mink stoles valued at an estimated $10,000 police reported.

Earlier in the day, burglars, using a store ladder, scaled a balcony to enter an F. W. Woolworth store where they smashed open a safe and took $4,000, police said.
